

WILL ASK JURY TO INDICT SHEPHERD

SCORE OF WITNESSES TO OFFER EVIDENCE IN M'CLINTOCK CASE

Crowe Arranges Series of Incidents On Which to Base Charges

Chicago, March 16.—The state's promise to William D. Shepherd, indictment for murder or freedom—was ready for fulfillment here today.

A score of witnesses, marshaled in another long night of investigation and grilling, were prepared to go before a grand jury and translate the many ugly rumors and insinuations which have grown out of the death of William Nelson McClintock, Shepherd's foster son, into concrete facts, and evidence to support the seven points of circumstantial evidence on which States Attorney Robert E. Crowe has demanded that Shepherd be held for criminal trial.

They were prepared to state, according to the state's attorneys office, how Billy McClintock had made Shepherd the chief heir to the McClintock fortune; how Shepherd saw that fortune slipping away from him as a death bed marriage of his last blood heir and Miss Isabelle Pope was being arranged; how Shepherd prevented the marriage by false statements to McClintock's fiancée, regarding the regulations for securing a marriage certificate; how Shepherd had engaged in secret study of bacteriology; how Shepherd had access to typhoid germs; how such germs were stolen from a place that Shepherd frequented and how, after McClintock had died of typhoid fever, Shepherd used his newly acquired wealth in an effort to destroy evidence of his bacteriological research. All these alleged facts and more will be told by the first four witnesses before the grand jury and their testimony alone, Crowe said today, should be sufficient to warrant the indictment. Other corroborative witnesses will be called to strengthen the chain of evidence but it is on the first four the state is counting for the success of its case.

These will be Dr. C. C. Faffman, president of the National University of Science, whose alleged confession that Shepherd had been a one week student at his university, had studied bacteriology there and had left the university about the time three virulent germ cultures including at least one culture of typhus had disappeared, was largely responsible for the state's decision to seek the indictment; John P. Marchand salesman for the school who testified at the McClintock inquest that Shepherd had written a letter to the university inquiring about courses in bacteriology; Dr. George Fosberg, to whom Shepherd is said to have applied for information concerning poisons, their administration and the chances of their postmortem discovery and Judge Harry Olson, "counsel for the dead" friend of the McClintock family and chief instigator of the death probe.

Another witness, considered important for corroboration will be Dr. Eugene A. O'Connor. He was brought into the case last night by one of the score of investigators from the state attorney's office who since Saturday have been combing the city for additional evidence. Dr. O'Connor is said to have been in Marchand's office when Shepherd's missing letter to the university was being discussed. The letter is said to have been bought back by Shepherd for $50.

If necessary, Crowe said today, Miss Pope also will testify. She is being brought back from California to be held in readiness but the state attorney's office intimated that this move was being made rather to have her for the probable trial than for the grand jury.

ROBINSON LOSES CASE ON APPEAL

London, March 16.—Charles Robinson's suit against the Midland bank in an effort to collect $550,000 of the money extracted from Sir Hari Singh in the famous "Mister A" blackmail case, will fail in the court of appeals the latter court announced today.

Only the question of costs of the first suit will be considered, the court said.

HERRIOT RECEIVES REPORT ON LEAGUE

Paris, March 16.—Premier Herriot received Aristide Briand today for a report on the Geneva negotiations of the league council.

Austen Chamberlain, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, arrived in Paris at 9:05 a. m. and will confer with Herriot on the security problem at the foreign office at 3 p. m.

HONOR PERSHING

Washington, March 16.—General John J. Pershing will be received in Washington tonight with a regular wartime demonstration. Representatives of the army and navy will have charge of the reception in his honor.

OHIOAN IS NAMED AGRICULTURE ASSISTANT

JOSHIAH KIRBY GOES ON TRIAL FOR VIOLATING OHIO BLUE SKY LAWS

"Harem Bride" Shot by Suitor

MR. & MRS. JOHN GOSHGARIN

When he entered his Boston home, John Goshgarin found his wife, Elizabeth, for whose release from a Turkish harem he had paid $5,000, seriously wounded, the victim of Paul Kochin, who was best man at their wedding several months ago. Kochin was secretly enamored of the young woman and shot himself after attacking her, dying on the way to a hospital.

LEGISLATURE WILL HOLD SESSION NEXT YEAR TO CODIFY LAWS, IS WORD

Committees Will Prepare Codifications During Year, It Is Said—Brown Gas Tax and Bible Bills To Occupy Attention This Week.

Columbus, O. March 16.—The legislature is coming back to Columbus March 1, 1926, an "off" year — to enact codifications of laws from the governing taxation, elections and criminal court procedure, according to plans of legislative leaders.

During the year's legislative recess after adjournment of the present session April 17, three special legislative committees are scheduled to labor on the tasks of codifying these laws and their reports are expected to be ready for submission to the special session for enactment into law.

The session next year will be limited to this specific purpose. Adjournment of the present session will be to March 1, next but provision will be made so the law makers may be called together again by officers, if the need arises before that time.

The special session is expected

"BANKS OF WABASH" DECIDEDLY WET AS FLOOD WATERS RAGE

Thousands Of Dollars Worth Of Damage Caused By Indiana's
Boasted Stream

Terre Haute, Ind., March 16.—With miles of the countryside under water and the rampant Wabash River continuing to rise slowly here, hundreds of families in the lowlands fled their homes to the protected districts.

Flood damage already has mounted to thousands of dollars. Bridges were washed away, roads undermined and scores of small farm buildings swept along in the path of the flood.

The Wabash River here stood at nineteen feet this morning with further rise reported at Clinton, fifteen miles north.

Steam lines as well as interurban roads, were forced to curtail service throughout the district when the flood waters failed to recede. From Peru, Ind., northward, no cars have been operated since early Saturday when the situation first became alarming. No loss of life has been reported. The waters rose slowly, enabling all families in the flooded district to receive ample warning and flee with most of their belongings.

NEW SCOUT PLAN

Defiance, March 16.—Organization of Boy Scout work on a district basis, and to employ an expert supervisor, is being considered here. The plan is to maintain an efficient organization at much less expense than would be incurred if each town hired an executive. Bryan, Montpelier, Bowling Green, Van Wert and Defiance are contemplated as prospects for membership in the proposed organization.

MAN WHO PYRAMIDED $3.75 INTO FORTUNE ASSERTS INNOCENCE

Expect Difficulty Getting Jury—Stockholders To Give Testimony

Cleveland, March 16.—Buttressed by an imposing array of legal counsel, Josiah Kirby, founder and first president of the Cleveland Discount Company and Raymond L. Poland, its former treasurer, went on trial in Common Pleas Court today, charged with issuance of a false statement in violation of the state blue sky laws.

Mrs. Kirby, who had come across the continent from California, sat by the side of her husband as the trial opened. Former Appellate Judge Walter Meals, Luther Day and Joseph C. Brientein were at Kirby's counsel table. The state was represented by special prosecutors Charles Higley, Joseph I. Eagleson and David E. Green.

It was anticipated that several days would be taken in securing a jury, due to the fact that more than ten thousand stockholders in the discount company reside here.

Kirby was confident of prompt acquittal when court opened.

"I am innocent of the charge against me," he declared.

"I am completely confident that I shall be vindicated by the court and jury."

Will H. Hoppe, of Tiffin, O., is one of the largest stockholders in the discount company and who acted as president for a short time following Kirby's resignation, two years ago, was one of the witnesses summoned for the state. Twenty witnesses have been called by the defense.

Kirby's indictment, the result of the work of a special grand jury empowered by direction of Governor A. V. Donahy, climaxed a career the like of which has rarely been known in the history of financial institutions.

Kirby, once rich and prosperous as a young man in Cincinnati, came here a few years ago, with but $3.75 in his pocket. Starting in here as a salesman, he soon gained a reputation as a man who could "sell anything." He opened a small office and prospered, although more than once angry creditors from Cincinnati took even his office chair to satisfy debts contracted in that city.

Finally he organized the Cleveland Discount Company, and under his driving the company soon became one of the largest concerns of its kind in the United States. Branch offices for the sale of stock were opened in Los Angeles, Chicago, New York and a score of other cities throughout the country, and the company erected a magnificent skyscraper in downtown Cleveland as its permanent home. The resources of the company continued to grow, and the last published statement revealed total assets of more than $400,000.

In the meantime Kirby had engaged in a spectacular fight with John J. Rockefeller, the oil king, and won. Securing an option on the Rockefeller Building—one of the landmarks of downtown Cleveland—he changed its name to the "Kirby Building," despite court action by the Rockefeller interests to maintain the historic name there. Upon the top of this building he placed a sign, "Kirby," in electric letters, "large enough," he explained, "to be seen in Cincinnati," the scene of his first failure.

As a sideline he took over the presidency of the Cleveland Yacht Club, and he put that defunct organization on its feet, retiring later because there was "nothing further to do."

Early in 1922 rumors were circulated in financial circles that the Cleveland Discount Company was in trouble. The affair was climaxed one morning when a committee of bankers announced that Kirby had resigned the presidency. Then followed efforts to avoid court action, but receivers were finally named by the State courts. An action to declare the concern bankrupt failed when the Federal Court upheld the finding of a special Master in Chancery, who found the company solvent.

Kirby, after leaving the presidency, left the city and went to California, where he was tried and acquitted on charges of selling stocks not permitted by the laws of that State.

Last summer, at the request of Cleveland citizens, Governor Donahy ordered a special grand jury to probe the sale of securities by Kirby and others. At the same time Federal authorities took action looking to Kirby's indictment on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

OFFICIAL SUICIDES

Tiffin, O., March 16.—George T. West, 68, Tiffin service and safety director for the past four years, shot and killed himself at his home here today. He was found by members of his family who were out of doors at the time, but who heard the shot. The shooting occurred in the pantry shortly after breakfast.

No reason for the deed is assigned, other than that West had been in poor health for two years. He had been unable to attend his official duties for three months. West was formerly a stone contractor.

WOMAN KILLED WHEN AUTO CRASHES INTO TRAIN AT CROSSING

Man Expected To Die—Three Others Hurt—Urbana Party
Was Leaving Dayton

Dayton, March 16.—One woman was killed, a man was probably fatally injured and four other persons were hurt when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into the side of a B. and O. special freight train at the old Troy pike crossing on the belt railroad, a few hundred feet north of the corporation line, at 12:15 o'clock this morning.

Miss Helen Lowe, 23, Urbana, O., is dead.

Clark Hamm, 22, Urbana, is not expected to live. Both legs were severed between the knees and the hips.

Roger Rust, 33, Urbana, driver of the auto, suffered lacerations on the arms and possible internal injuries.

Ethel Parke, 22, Urbana, lacerated on both legs.

Alston Pickrell, 27, Urbana, injuries to his head and shoulders.

Pauline Detwiler, 20, West Liberty, O., was uninjured.

The body of Miss Lowe, which was severed just above the hips, was taken to an undertaking parlor.

Miss Detwiler said the party had attended the performance of the Music Box Revue at the Victory Theater last night and was enroute home when the accident occurred.

She said she was not aware of the presence of the train until the automobile crashed into the side of the slowly moving cars.

The train, carrying two locomotives and a caboose, was backing into North Dayton when the accident occurred. The caboose crossed the road and was followed by the two engines.

The automobile crashed into the train just between the caboose and the adjoining engine. The train moved approximately 100 feet after the auto crashed into it.

It is thought the force of the crash hurled Miss Lowe through the windshield of the auto onto the tracks between the caboose and locomotive. Wheels of both engines passed over the body.

Hamm was thrown under the wheels of the engine.

Psychic Broadcasting Is Complaint Of Radio Fans

Washington, March 16.—There's a lot of funny business going on in the air these days and nights—if a pile of letters on the desk of Chief Radio Inspector Terrell, in the department of commerce tells the truth.

Officials were puzzled today over the receipts of an unusual number of complaints from persons in widely separated parts of the country that "psychic broadcasting stations" are operating.

"Queer voices" making "spectral threats" have come to them via radio, according to some of the complainants.

Some of the letters obviously are the work of unsound minds — "nut letters"—as they are described in government circles—but others are not. Names of the writers are withheld, but department officials told

SCHOOL CHILDREN STRIKE OVER EDICT

Strasbourg, Alsace Lorraine, Mar. 16.—Thirty per cent of Strasbourg's school children remained at home or at their play today in response to Bishop Ruch's proclamation requesting they strike against the government's law that they strike against the government's edict requiring abolition of sectarian schools.

The prefect of Bas Rhin warned that the strike would be illegal, but Deputy Pfleger in a statement to Catholics declared they need not be intimidated by the warning. The Catholics regard the establishment of schools in which clergymen of every faith taught the various creeds as a step toward schools in which religion would not be taught at all.

Miss Katherine Kinsella, of Los Angeles, has brought suit for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise against James J. Provencher, Los Angeles banker.

ATTORNEY WAIVES EXAMINATION FOR CONSPIRACY CASE

Barnett Will Stand Trial At Cleveland On Federal Liquor Offense

Columbus, O., March 16.—W. E. Barnett, Columbus, attorney today waived preliminary examination and will stand trial in the Northern Ohio United States district court at Cleveland on a charge of conspiring to violate federal prohibition laws.

His bond was continued at $2500.

Announcement of Barnett's decision was made by Attorney Beecher W. Waltemire, Columbus, former member of the state utilities commission, Barnett's counsel, when United States Commissioner Wright resumed his hearing on the question of ordering removal of former federal prohibition Director Russell, Merle Copeland, who was an executive clerk in Russell's office and Barnett to the federal court at Cleveland.

Russell, Copeland and Barnett recently, along with six other persons, were jointly indicted by the federal grand jury at Cleveland on the conspiracy charge.

Russell again took the witness stand when Commissioner Wright resumed his hearing today.

WIND DESTROYS NEST

Brownfield, March 16.—The bald-headed eagle's nest which has been on a tree here for 30 years is no more. The wind knocked down the nest which weighed a ton. Western Reserve University professors had built an observation station near the tree. Last Thanksgiving Day, one of the eagles was slain.

RENICK W. DUNLAP OF KINGSTON, OHIO, IS NOMINATED FOR POST

Senate Adamant In Face of Coolidge Defy On Warren Case.

Washington, D. C.—By a vote of forty-six to thirty-nine the Senate rejected the nomination of Charles B. Warren for attorney general for the second time this afternoon.

Washington, March 16.—Renick W. Dunlap, of Kingston, O., was nominated today by President Coolidge to be assistant secretary of agriculture.

Dunlap has spent practically his entire life in active farming and was secretary of the state board of agriculture of Ohio in 1915.

Washington, March 16.—President Coolidge, having defied the new senate to keep Charles B. Warren out of his cabinet, that body prepared today to reject his attorney general nomination for the second time.

The president's threat to give Warren a recess appointment projected a new issue of constitutional powers into the clash between the executive and the senate. The Warren opposition again openly charged the president with attempting to override the senate's constitutional authority "to advise and consent on cabinet appointments" and grimly announced that the Warren appointment would be rejected as many times as the executive named him to head the department of justice.

The president sent word to administration leaders of the senate that he had in no wise retreated from the position he took Saturday night when he defied the senate to prevent Warren entering the cabinet. The president was reported as willing to make a national issue out of the controversy since he felt the senate had used a cabinet position as a "political football." His spokesman said he was determined on a finish fight.

The senate convened at 10:30 this morning for the final act in the Warren drama. An agreement provided for four hours debate before the final vote and with that taken, a recess was planned, until tomorrow to give the president opportunity to consider its final action on the Warren nomination.

"We won't adjourn the special session," Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, minority leader, said "until the president says he has no further information to submit."

FRIENDLY ATTITUDE OF GREAT BRITAIN ON CONFERENCE SHOWN

English Favor Proposed Disarmament Meeting In Washington D. C. This Year

London, March 16.—Great Britain's friendly attitude toward the proposed disarmament conference was demonstrated again today in a statement from the foreign office.

"Great Britain believes the disarmament conference should have the widest scope but realizes there is difficulty regarding land armaments. "England would be pleased if President Coolidge could surmount this difficulty," the statement read.

The foreign office said England was hopeful that the submarine problem could be coped with, but realized that the question of aerial armaments would be hindered by the problem of differentiating between civil and military aviation.

Reports reaching here from France indicated France will demand her security must be assured before she enters such a conference. It was also reported France is unwilling to discuss cruisers or submarines.

Lord Beaverbrook's London Express says France will use her tremendous air forces as a club over Great Britain to secure an agreeable security pact. On the other hand there are reports that Great Britain is willing to use allied debts as a threat against France should she attempt to block the conference.

POLICEMAN THWARTS ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

Alliance, O., March 16.—It is believed Patrolman E. H. Roger of Alliance frustrated an attempt to rob the Peoples' bank of this city at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The patrolman believes that during an exchange of shots with five men, who stopped an automobile in front of the bank building, he wounded two of them and that their capture will be effected when a net thrown out about doctors and hospitals is drawn in by the police departments of neighboring cities.

BATH PULLS SURPRISE BY WINNING BOYS' DIVISION OF TOURNEY AT ANTIOCH COLLEGE

BY L. J. WONES

Yellow Springs, March 16—By nosing out Ross Township 24 to 22, Bath basketball five won the boys' championship of the county Saturday night at Kelly gym, Antioch College.

Yellow Springs High School won honors in the girls' division the second consecutive time by easily defeating Bath girls by a 21 to 10 score. Bath was a dark horse in both divisions.

Bath boys were forced to play one more game than their opponents and they showed lots of endurance. The game as a whole was fast and kept the large crowd on hand excited and rooting hard. Neither team could obtain a commanding lead and the winner was in doubt until the last moment of play. The score was tied eight times and it zigzagged back and forth with first one team and then the other in the lead.

Bath's two forwards, Fisher and Fulton, defeated Ross. These lads scored all but one point for their team. Fisher was high man with five fielders and four fouls giving him a total of fourteen points. Fulton hit the net four times from the field and once from the foul line for a total of nine points. Campbell at guard also played well on the defense. The entire team showed up well and its passwork was the best seen in the tourney.

Gordon and Knecht did most of Ross' scoring. The former found the net three times from the field and once from the foul line while the latter was high man with the same number of field goals but tossed one more foul. Kavanaugh played a nice game at center and scored once from the field and twice from the free throw line. Ross fought hard to stave off defeat but was just up against a better team. Both teams had some tough luck with their shooting.

Bath gained possession of the ball after the tip off and worked it down for a short one that Fisher missed. Boots tried a long one which went wide but Fisher was right on the job and followed it up perfectly for the first score of the game. Deck came through with a long one shortly after and tied the score at two all. Fulton put his team in the front with a ringer from the side and Fisher increased Bath's lead with a fielder at the quarter ended with Bath in front by a 6 to 2 count.

Ross got going in the second period and played on even terms with its rivals. Gordon started it with a short one and Knecht followed suit knocking the score for the second time. Knecht tossed a foul that put his team in the lead for the first time. Fisher dribbled in for a short one that again sent his team in the lead by an 8 to 7 score. Shade fouled Knecht and he made good on the throw, tying the score. Knecht tossed a long one giving his team a two point lead. Fisher and Fulton made baskets and these two fielders gave them a 12 to 11 lead as the half ended. Fisher fouled Gordon as the gun cracked and he made good on the attempt.

Ross made a nice comeback and out-played Bath in the third quarter scoring eight points while Bath obtained but five. Shade tossed a foul, knotting the score at twelve all. Knecht took a pass from Deck, and dribbled in for a closeup shot that broke the tie. Kavanaugh added a foul and Ross was in front by a 15 to 12 score. Campbell tossed a foul and Fisher made two from the charity line that again brought them in a deadlock. Gordon sunk one in from the side. Kavanaugh dribbled from under Bath's basket to the center of the floor and tried a long one which failed but he followed it nicely giving his team a four point lead. Fulton obtained the ball on the tipoff and set the Bath rooters wild when he looped a long one through, the quarter ending with Ross in front by a 19 to 17 score.

The last period was hard fought and baskets were scarce. Fulton, after a few minutes of play, found the net from the field. Gordon duplicated his feat. Fisher sunk a short one that knotted the score at 21. Kavanaugh fouled Fisher and he tossed two good ones from the free throw line that put his team in front by a 23 to 21 score. Kavanaugh was next with a free throw and Fulton duplicated his feat as the game ended. Bath played good ball throughout but was a bit rough. Boots, center, was ejected from the game on eleven fouls. The entire team made eleven fouls and if Ross could have made several more of its free attempts count, it would have won. Ross had thirteen tries and made six good.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

A Ford sedan, owned by John Pitstick, of Jamestown, stolen from where it was parked Friday evening on West Third Street, was found abandoned in a field outside the city limits on the Cincinnati Pike early Saturday morning. It was reported at the Greene County Auto Club.

The machine was apparently in good condition with nothing damaged.

YELLOW SPRINGS IS WINNER OF HONORS AT ANTIOCH TOURNEY

By L. J. WONES

Yellow Springs girls experienced no difficulty in downing Bath 21 to 10. The game was fast in spots but after the Yellow Springs bunch once located the net the contest dragged.

Yellow Springs has a fine team and the two centers are in a part responsible for their win over Bath as both know just what to do with the ball when they get it. Their reach and knowing when and where to pass was too much of a handicap to the Bath sextet which fought and played the best way it knew how.

Donley was the big noise for the winners with five fielders. She was one of the best forwards in the meet. No matter how close the guard was to her she could evade her some way and get the ball in the net or pass off to the other forward. Littleton was also good and played nice ball scoring nine points for her team.

Carr and Confer, the two centers, played fine ball and did some excellent passing. Weiss was the main stay on defense. She took the ball off the bank board nicely and started the offense.

T. Beal starred for Bath girls with three fielders and one foul. Merrick at the other front position found the net once from the field and also dropped in one from the foul line.

Littleton was first to score with a foul. She had another chance from the foul line a moment later but missed. Merrick put her team in the lead with a field goal but Donley sunk a nice one giving her team a 3 to 2 lead at this juncture. Littleton tossed another foul and Donley dropped in one from the field as the first quarter ended with Yellow Springs in front by a 6 to 2 score.

Yellow Springs played a tight guarding game in the second quarter and held Bath scoreless again while it scored three fielders and one foul for a 13 to 2 lead at the half.

The third and fourth quarters were a little more evenly contested as both teams scored eight points but the early lead Yellow Springs obtained was too much for Bath to overcome. Dudley, who worked the game, was given the "razz" by the Bath crowd who thought he was not fair. Dudley's work was satisfactory to Earl Prugh, who was in

TAX LEGISLATION IMPORTANT PART OF BUREAU PROGRAM

Taxation has occupied a prominent place in the program of the Farm Bureau.

This applies to every unit in government from the township to the country at large.

The state Federation, during the preceding General Assembly helped to secure the passage of the Griswold Debt Limitation Law, curbing the power of taxing officials to go into debt. It requires that bond issues shall be serial and be paid when due.

It successfully fought many radical and ill considered measures. At present, the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation is seeking the passage of several measures pending before the General Assembly including—

Strengthening of the present debt laws and enactment of adequate budget laws for all taxing districts.

Opposing further issuance of tax free securities, unless provisions are made for an income tax returns from them.

Reappraisal of all property not recently appraised, and periodical reappraisements at true values.

Tax on automobiles and gasoline designed to make the man who wears out the roads pay for them.

Reduction of assessment on property along the line of improved state highways to a maximum of 10 per cent, providing that the assessment should not be more than 10 per cent of the duplicate value of the land, and that the assessment be based on cost of road suitable for farm needs.

The American Farm Bureau Federation helped secure the reduction on the national income tax, and successfully fought many measures inimical to the interest of agriculture.

CADETS DEFEATED BY DAYTON TOSSERS

The O. S. and S. O. Home Cadets basketball team lost to the St. Paul M. E. team at the Home Armory Saturday night in a close contest by a score of 27 to 25. The result was in doubt until the last few seconds of play when Turvey caged the basket that put the Dayton five into the lead. Turvey was easily the star performer of the game making twenty-three points.

Ross, at forward for Xenia, scored five fielders for ten points. The lineup and summary:
Xenia (25) Cadets (20)

Sporttime Stories

BROADCAST BY STATION WONES

Bath boys' team rather upset the dope when it copped from Ross at Yellow Springs Saturday night and won the Greene County boys' championship. Cedarville and Beaver Creek were doped to win or rather play each other in the finals as both had good clubs and finished in a tie for first place in the county league. Ross was also given a chance and did come through, winning two games but losing out in the finals to Bath. Cedarville lost to Bath in the first round by a 14 to 9 score while Beaver Creek stayed until the semi-finals and lost an overtime game to Bath by a 16 to 15 score. Bath finished in fifth place in the county league and it was for this reason it was looked upon as nothing out of the ordinary. Bath displayed championship ball in the meet, winning four games. This required lots of stamina and grit. Bath had a hard tussle with Cedarville while it required an overtime period to win from Bowersville. They nosed Beaver Creek out in an overtime game while they engaged Ross in the finals in a grueling contest.

It was the consensus of opinion that Ross would beat Bath on account of the three hard games in which the winners had been engaged. But the Bath lads surprised even the most ardent followers and won for themselves the first county meet in the history of the school.

It was not surprising to see Yellow Springs girls walk away with honors in the girls' meet as they had lost but two from last season's team. With four regulars back, Coach "Slim" Dawson built a powerful team that was easily the class of the meet. Donley, Littleton and Carr displayed championship ball for the Springs bunch. Cedarville had a good club but lost to the up county sextet in the first round. Beaver Creek was rather a disappointment as the writer looked for it to go in the finals but, like Cedarville, it tasted defeat in the first round at the hands of Bath girls.

"Tacks" Latimer of this city, who is serving a term at the Ohio Penitentiary will manage and coach the Pen team this season. Latimer is a former major leaguer having played in big time ball for fifteen seasons. He was with the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Pittsburgh Pirates. He also played in the A. A. loop with Louisville and Minneapolis. When he was a scout for the Pirates he is credited with having discovered Bobby Vahl and Red Faber. Latimer managed a Cincinnati railroad team that played games here at old Reserve ball park about five years ago. This will be the first time since baseball has been played within the walls of the penitentiary that the team will be managed by an inmate.

REPORT OF PROBING COMMITTEE OF HOME OFFERED THIS WEEK

A report of the findings of the special senate investigating committee, which probed conditions at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home here, will be completed and submitted to the senate and Governor Vic Donahey the latter part of this week, Senator L. T. Marshall, Xenia, head of the committee, declared Saturday.

Miss Elsie Canby, court stenographer here, has completed the transcript of testimony given at the secret hearing in Xenia and Columbus, and presented her notes to the committee Monday in detail.

The investigating committee has been marking time pending the transcribing of the notes, according to Senator Marshall.

Asked if the committee was satisfied with its case on the testimony produced on conditions at the Home, Senator Marshall declared the members had never discussed the question. The report will probably be made public when delivered, it is understood.

9 Reasons for World Leadership

WASHES clothes by the most amazing improvement in washer history.

Actually seizes the suds in the water and forces them through the clothes, enabling it to wash:

- a whole tubful of clothes in 3 to 7 minutes;
- twice as many pieces in an hour as ordinary washers;
- blouses, undergarments, and sheer hose more carefully than hand methods; and the dirtiest work clothes—clean as a whistle in 10 minutes!

Relieves you of all handrubbing of wristbands, cuffs and collars.

Phone for a demonstration NOW while the Maytag Man is here. He'll bring a washer right to your home. Try it—wash all your soiled things with it. Don't miss this opportunity. No obligation.

*In 600 days it swept the Maytag into world leadership.

ZIMMERMAN

Miss Thelma Brewer and Mr. Robert W. Frey were united in marriage Tuesday, February 24, 1925, at the home of the Rev. J. H. Eidemiller, near Carlyle, the latter performing the ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a dress of grey canton crepe, with grey accessories, cranberry colored coat and black patent pumps.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brewer, of near Zimmerman, a graduate of the Dayton public schools, the Beaver Creek Township High School and of Miami Jacobs Business College. She has held a position as stenographer with the American Display Company, Dayton for two and one half years. She is a very attractive, popular and accomplished young lady.

The groom is the son of William F. Frey, wholesale merchant of Dayton, and is associated in business with his father. He is a graduate of Stivers High School and of Denison University and was pledged to Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frey went directly after the ceremony to their own home at 5 Bradford Street, Dayton, where they are at home to their many friends.

Lewis Bailey, wife and son and daughter, visited his father, Marion Bailey and wife, Sunday and attended services at Zimmerman Sunday morning and afternoon.

William Zimmerman of Piqua attended church at this place Sunday morning and afternoon, and dined with his father, Cornelius Zimmerman and family.

A very large crowd of friends and relatives attended the funeral of Mrs. Viola Gray Long, 24, at the church in Zimmerman Sunday afternoon.

The service was in charge of Rev. Eidemiller. Several selections were sung by Mrs. Lester Shoup, Mrs. Jesse Johnson and brother, Carl McMichael. There were many beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Long had been in poor health for several years and after the death from tuberculosis of her sister, Mrs. Chester Cyphers some months ago, she began to grow rapidly worse until the end came, March 4.

Surviving are her husband, Ed Long, three children, Austin, 6; Kenneth, 4 and Opal twenty-two months old, one sister Myrtle Gray and three brothers, Clifford, Francis and Harold.

Following the death of her mother, Mrs. Amy Gray several years ago, Mrs. Long and her husband took entire charge of the orphaned brothers and sisters and generously shared their home. Much credit was given for the splendid care given to her young charges. The heart sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved husband and children.

The Zimmerman Community Club meeting was held, March 4, at the schoolhouse. The President, Mrs. Orris Jones, presided. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Harry Haverstick, vice president, Mrs. Harry Stewart; secretary, Mrs. Frank Barron; treasurer, Miss Julia Lantz.

Refreshments of cocoa and cakes were served by Mrs. Charles Gelsler and Mrs. Luther Snyder.

Mrs. Haverstick who served as president for four years, returned to the office after a year's absence from office, on account of ill-health. During which time, Mrs. Jones as vice president, administered the duties of the office and kept the work of the club going, though neither is a resident of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Koogler called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Coy, at Belmont, Sunday evening.

Bernice Wright, of Dayton, was the guest of her cousin Mildred Stewart Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Smart is convalescing after an illness from pneumonia. Also Mrs. Myrtle Carpenter. The latter expects to move soon from Shoups' Station to her newly erected home east of Belmont.

HOME MISSION NEED EMPHASIZED IN TALK AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Emphasizing the importance of not confining Home Missionary organized work to the Indians of the West, the needy Negroes of the South and the Kentucky mountaineers, but rather to the immigrants that enter the shores of the United States and laxity in the home, school and church, Mrs. John Ferguson, New York City, national mission workers, gave an interesting address at the morning services of the First United Presbyterian Church, Sunday.

Mrs. Ferguson dwelt on the problems of home life and young people of the present, which declared to be serious and a problem for the church and school. She gave facts and figures to bear out her statements and urged the co-operation of the church missions bodies in overcoming wrong conditions.

Her address was heard by a large audience. Mrs. Ferguson is president of the National Council of Women for Home Missions and travels over the Country with other workers seeking a unity and relation in mission work of about twenty denominations.

For a number of years she was engaged in home mission work in the United Presbyterian Church. Together with other mission workers, she is in Dayton, this week, attending a mission conference.

EAST END NEWS

Thirty two members and friends of the Community Bible School rendered a delightful program at the Church Sunday. Mrs. Mary Roman, 74, the "mother of the school" preached a powerful sermon to the congregation on "The Risen Lord," John 20. After the sermon the chorus joined in the song, "He Arose from the Dead," Sup. Hattie Spencer.

ANTIOCH STUDENTS WILL RATE FACULTY

Some of the Antioch students who will rate faculty.

By WILLIAM GOODALL YOUNG

Certainly strange things are happening in this old world of ours. In one direction we have a vice president telling Senators of the United States where to head in and get off at.

Then comes Antioch College, which is constantly springing surprises on the educational world, actually inviting students to rate the faculty. An unheard of proceeding. The rating will consist of the student's personal opinion of the members of the faculty in any one or more of the four following particulars:

Ability to present a subject matter clearly; Willingness to advise the student in personal, college and vocational matters;

MANY JUNIOR ORDER MEMBERS PRESENT AT MEETING HERE

Two hundred and fifty members of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics, from Greene and Montgomery Counties attended the initiation of candidates from the Thirtieth District, at the Xenia Lodge Hall, Saturday evening.

Lodge members from Greene County, Dayton, Miamisburg and Germantown, attended the ceremonies. Work in three degrees was in charge of visiting lodge degree teams, the first degree work being staged by the Aviation Council, Dayton; the second degree by the Miamisburg team and the third degree by the Germantown team.

After the degree work, music was furnished by the Miamisburg Lodge orchestra. Among the visitors was State District Deputy Ben Jennings, of Dayton, who gave a short talk. Other visitors and local lodge members gave short talks.

Luncheon was served before the initiatory work. About ten lodges of the two counties were represented at the meeting.

DRAWS JAIL TERM FOR MIXING BOOZE WITH GAS SUNDAY

Oliver Warwick, colored, East Church Street, received a fine of $100 and costs and a sentence of sixty days in the County Jail imposed by Judge E. D. Smith, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an auto while intoxicated Monday morning in Police Court. Harry Hirst, colored, of this city, was given a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of drunk to which he pleaded guilty.

The pair was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn and Patrolman Charles Thompson Sunday morning after Warwick had driven his automobile into a tree on East Church St., smashing the windshield, breaking a wheel and knocking Hirst, his companion unconscious. The car slid more than one hundred feet after hitting the tree.

Hirst received a deep cut above his right eye, and was in such an intoxicated condition that he could not be revived by police for nearly twelve hours. His condition is not serious.

KEPT BOOZE IN SAFE BUT LOCKSMITH AIDS POLICE RECOVER IT

It took police several hours to make a "case" against Harry Hudson, colored, East Church Street, Sunday morning, as a 2,000 pound safe owned by Hudson, which police suspected contained the much needed "evidence," defied all efforts to open it until a locksmith was summoned from Dayton.

Arraigned in Police Court on a charge of possessing liquor Monday morning, Hudson pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for Wednesday morning. He was released on $500 bond.

Deputy Sheriff John Baughn and Patrolman Charles Thompson conducted a raid on the Hudson home Sunday morning in search of liquor but after agreeing permitting the officers to search the house, Hudson refused to open the safe.

After several hours of useless tampering, a locksmith was called from Dayton who drilled the lock open, and enabled police to remove a quart and a half of liquor, and another half pint bottle.

Hudson claimed to have used the booze for medicinal purposes only.

The faculty member's value to Antioch.

The ratings are to be handed in on printed forms with a long line opposite each of the four sections. A check mark on one end of this line means that the faculty member stands very high, while at the other end it indicates that in the opinion of the student making the rating he stands very low. A check mark in between indicates the faculty members standing between the two extremes.

Each blank has a coupon attached numbered to correspond with the number on the blank faculty rating itself. The coupon, which is detached and deposited in a locked box, to be opened only by President Morgan or Dean Nash, contains the name of the faculty member being rated, the basis upon which the rating is being made, and the student's name. The rating blank, containing the name of the member, the four grades of rating, checked as above indicated and any brief remarks the student cares to make, with the date but without the name of the student, is turned in to the President or the Dean for consideration, after which it is handed to the faculty member whose name it bears.

It is hoped this will be a way of handing out real encouragement where encouragement is needed and also of hitting weak spots accurately, thus pointing out to the faculty member where his strong and weak points are.

The rating will be conducted at the request of the faculty itself after vote on the matter. This not only shows confidence in the administration, but also in the seriousness of the students themselves. The general feeling among the students is one of responsibility and the faculty is assured of a fair and unprejudiced judgment.

The faculty realizes that there is no way of accurately determining how much its members are accomplishing in their work, and that even the subjects in which they feel themselves most competent are not necessarily going across to the students in the most helpful way. Therefore it welcomes this chance to find what its members are really accomplishing.

This rating will not be a one-sided affair. The faculty will rate the students in the same manner, and the students will later be asked to rate each other.

The entire rating idea is looked upon at Antioch as an unusual opportunity to discover, not critically, but constructively, just what defect of personality and character exists. The results of the ratings will furnish a basis, to faculty and students alike, for personal improvement and increased efficiency.

For Air Navy

Rear Admiral W. S. Sims, U.S.N. (retired), who commanded the American warships in European waters in the World War, told the House Committee on Aircraft, meeting in Washington, that America needed a great air fleet, rather than battleships, for her first line of defense.

PARK WORKERS WILL MEET MONDAY NIGHT TO PERFECT PLANS

Final reports will be made and plans completed at a meeting of the organization workers at the City Hall Monday evening for the drive for the $10,000 goal set by the Xenia Recreation Association for Thursday, to beautify and equip the proposed site for the new civic park in the Dodds Addition.

Immediately preceding the final meeting, the general finance committee will hold a supper-meeting at the Goody Shoppe at 6 o'clock to report on success in obtaining pledges.

Plans for the city-wide canvass Thursday have been completed and the association is marking time until drive day.

T. H. Zell, president of the association, announced Monday that instead of holding separate meetings on regular meeting nights this week, the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs will hold a joint meeting at the Goody Shoppe at 12 o'clock Thursday in the interest of the drive.

LUTHERAN CHURCH SERVICES ATTRACT BIG CROWDS SUNDAY

Congregations that filled the church auditorium at both services, attended the rededication services at the First Lutheran Church, West Main Street, Sunday morning and evening.

The services were in celebration of the completion of elaborate repairs and additions to the church and a general "home-coming" made the day an enjoyable one. A number of out-of-town visitors and former members of the church attended the services.

About 125 people attended each of the services. The morning service began at 10:30 o'clock, with the Rev. W. H. Naffziger, acting pastor, in charge of the program. The Rev. J. H. Koller, Springfield, and the Rev. M. L. Peters, Pennsylvania, addressed both audiences. The Rev. Mr. Peters gave a history of the formation of the Lutheran Church and the customs of the church. The Rev. Mr. Koller talked on general church work and both addresses were well received.

The Rev. Mr. Stacy, former pastor of the church, also gave a short talk at the evening service, telling of his connection with the church and the co-operation of the congregation. The Rev. Mr. Naffziger gave brief talks at both services.

Special musical programs were given by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Lewis Urschel and Raymond Cospey. Mrs. Urschel, Carl Mellage, Mr. Cospey and Miss Edna Mellage sang solos.

The church edifice was banked with palms and ferns and flowers and added to the beauty of the recent decorations of the auditorium.

TO SOLICIT FUNDS IN GREENE COUNTY

Xenia and Greene County alumni of Ohio Wesleyan University will be solicited in behalf of their university's development program, beginning Wednesday.

Four representatives of Ohio Wesleyan will make their headquarters in Xenia for the four days during which the solicitation is to be conducted and will make an effort to call on all the alumni.

The purpose of the development program is to provide for sixteen new buildings which will enable the university to accommodate many students who are turned away each year because of lack of equipment and to provide also for more than $5,000,000 additional general endowment. The first $1,000,000 of the $8,000,000 fund required for the program has just been pledged.

BERNARR MACFADDEN

We make strenuous efforts to learn to read and write, but proper breathing, a thousand times more important, is not given much attention.

Air is food, it creates life. If not secured, disease and death soon intervene. If air is of such importance, if it is so necessary to life and health, is not the manner in which it is breathed also of very great importance? The answer to this question is plain, but nevertheless, the attention given to proper breathing, by the average individual, is practically nil.

Like everything else appertaining to the physical body, the average person seems to imagine that it "just grows" as it was made to grow and no influence of any kind can change it.

This statement may seem like an exaggeration, but I firmly believe that less than five per cent of the women breathe properly, and if one selects only the leisure classes, where a certain amount of muscular work is not compulsory, no doubt less than one out of a hundred would be found who makes free and proper use of the lungs.

The terrible results of this evil have been commented upon before and it unquestionably causes thousands to fill premature graves annually, and results in physical and mental miseries for many millions more.

Study the breathing of a little child, lying or standing, not yet hampered and deformed by tight and restrictive bands, and with every breath inhaled, the abdomen at the waist line will go outward, and return as the breath is exhaled. Here will be found a practical exemplification of proper breathing from which every one can learn; where the child can teach the adult. And the value of this lesson, if it conveys the method and the vast importance of proper breathing, is beyond all financial consideration, for it means increased health, stronger and more symmetrical bodies, and all this cannot be bought.

All are familiar with the functions of the lungs, but few are aware of the necessity for their proper performance. If one is in the habit of breathing with the chest wall, inhaling continually in "short pants" as it were; if the habit of taking full, deep inspirations frequently while in the open air, is not cultivated only a small part of the lungs is used, and every part of the body suffers in consequence.

CONGRESS AND DIRTY MAGAZINES

WHEN the new Congress meets it could do a signal service to the cause of Americanism by appropriating a special and adequate sum of money for the prosecution of publishers who offend common decency by sending erotic or revolting literature through the mails. The number of magazines which so offend is constantly increasing and the circulation of these magazines has become enormous.

On the other hand, public sentiment is almost unanimous in condemnation of it. Not only the members of the Christian churches have been grossly offended by the growth of this traffic but public-spirited men of no church have spoken indignantly of this assault upon the fundamentals of Americanism. In the words of Hamlin Garland, this literature "is not only un-American in tone and method but equally cynical and subversive. It is born of lugubrious Russian philosophy and certain decadent French masters of hopeless and debasing fiction. England, France and America are in the process of exchanging obscenity, rather than the vital, characteristic and helpful literature which represents busy people everywhere."

THE NEW SOUTH

ABOUT six years ago the Commission on Inter-Racial Co-Operation was formed in the South, its logical starting point. It consisted of an equal number of leaders from the white race and the negroes. It has given consideration to grievances or injustices springing out of inter-racial relations.

Recent reports indicate that this form of co-operation is spreading in the South. Joint committees of the two races have been set up in some 800 Southern counties, covering several states. It is believed that they had an important influence in bringing about a notable reduction in lynchings the past year.

This is but one of several indications that a new South is developing. When the citizens of Enterprise, Ala., not long ago erected a monument to the boll weevil because it had forced diversified agriculture upon them, they gave token of the same fact.

For many years after the civil war the South made such slow progress that it seemed to be standing still. Of late, at any rate, it has not stood still, but has made steady gain in economic stability, in civic spirit and in education.

In 1923, for example, the value of its farm products reached the impressive total of six and a quarter billion dollars. Its tobacco crop in 1910 was worth eighty millions, but by 1923 it had risen to two hundred and forty-one millions.

There are fifteen agricultural colleges in the South and her universities are prospering and are being liberally endowed. Observers claim that no section of the country has developed so rapidly the last twenty years as the South. In economic resources it is astoundingly rich, while industrially and educationally it is being reborn.

One of the best features of this movement is the manifestation of a new spirit growing up between the faces there.

THE FAIR DAY

It through the day and all that it
I shall bring
I shall have come without one sharp regret;
If in the breast of none whom I have met
No word of mine has left a bitter sting
And none, because I passed stays sorrowing
Though little to my profit shall I get,
I shall not mind my weight of honest debt
Nor dread the morning as a fearful thing.

I can look forward to another day
With heart untroubled, eager, unafraid,
Knowing there waits for me along the way
No shame to shrink from and no
pitfalls made;
I can return tomorrow to my place
Head high to meet my fellows, face to face!

TO DELAY IS DANGEROUS

SERIOUSLY BURNED AS STOVE EXPLODES

Ralph Quinn, blacksmith of the Pennsylvania Railroad, had his right arm seriously burned when a cannon stove in his shop, near the depot, exploded Saturday afternoon. Mr. Quinn had filled the stove with "green coal" and was closing the stove door when the gases in the coal caused the stove to explode. The flames shot through the door and caught Mr. Quinn's clothing. He was saved from more serious burns by his son, George Quinn, who also works in the shop.

Dr. W. A. Galloway, Pennsylvania Railroad surgeon, dressed the burns, which are not thought serious if infection does not set in.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole
Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

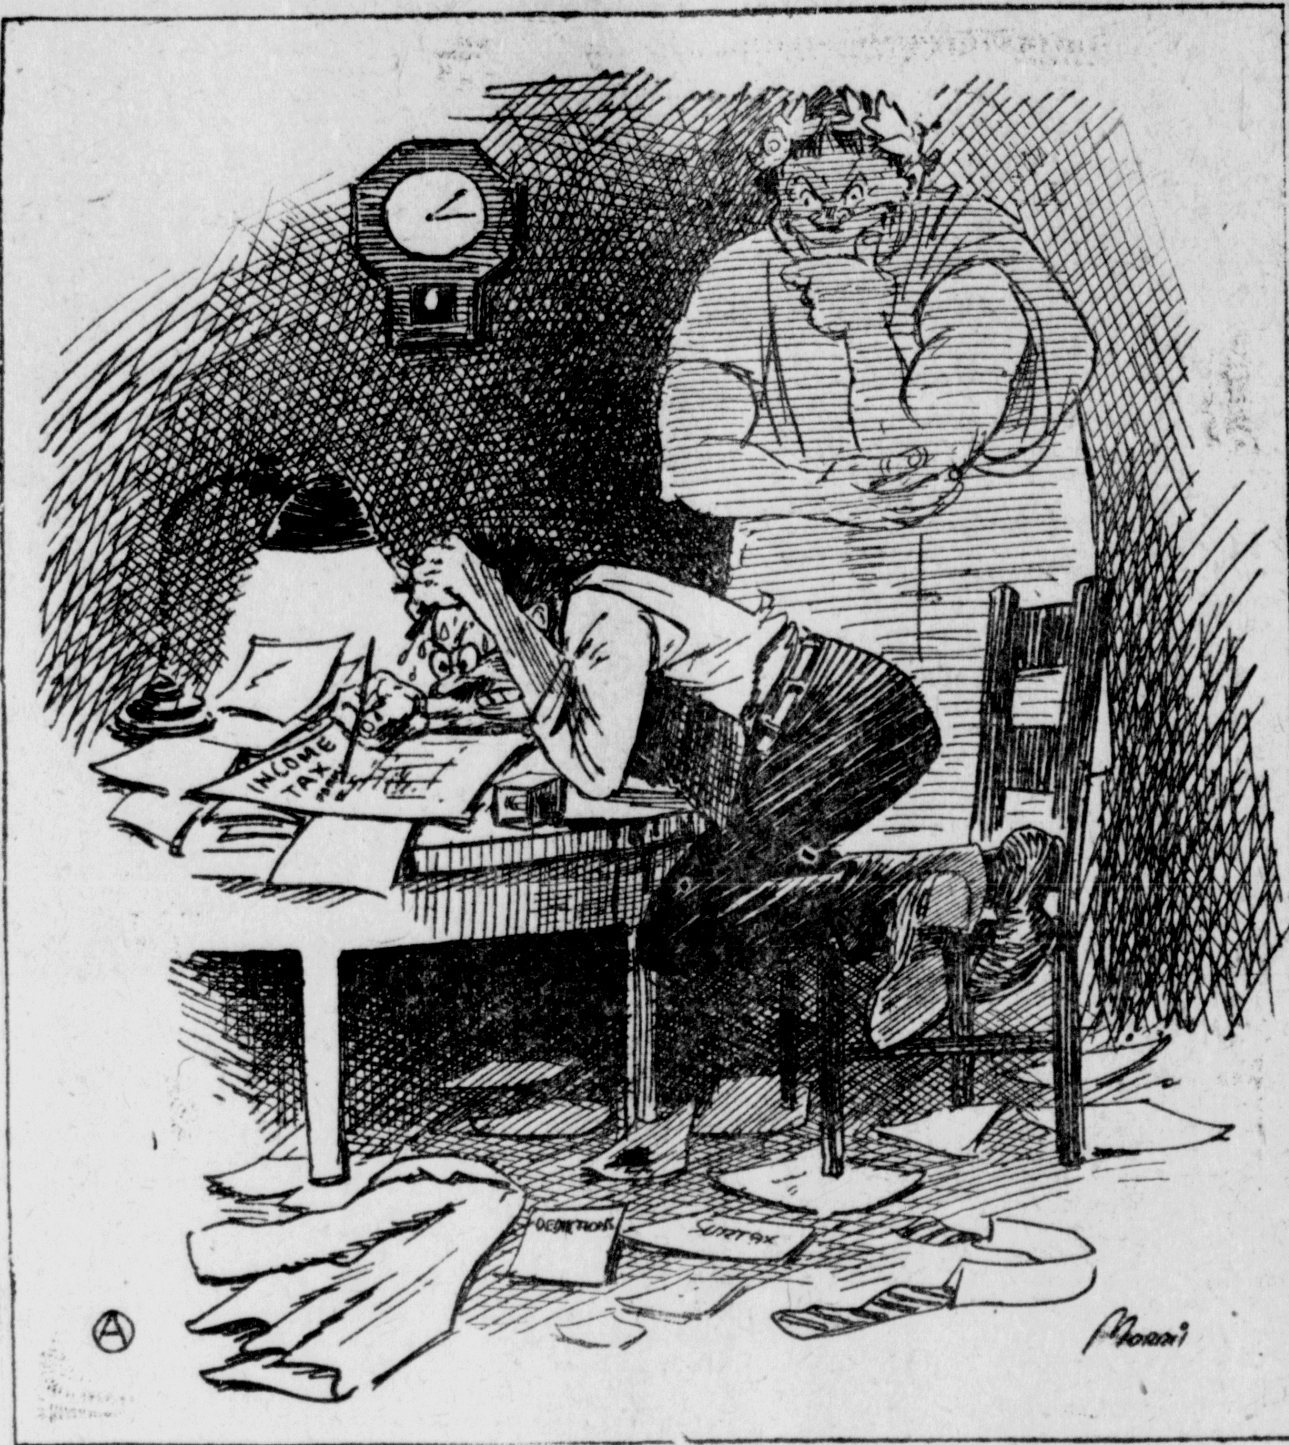

First rub it on with your finger-tips. Then you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

1905-Twenty Years Ago-1925

The matter of paving streets in Xenia appears to be contagious and another street, West Second, will in all probability be added to the list in a short time. A party of Xenians consisting of Police Chief Smith, Officer William McCallister, and Mr. W. E. Kiser, were entertained at a supper by Mr. and Mrs. Ed

Stahl who are conducting the Osborn Hotel in Osborn. In an exciting game last night the National bowling team defeated the All Stars, McFarland, of the Nationals rolling high score and average. The Y. M. C. A. star course closed last evening with a splendid concert by the Dunbar Company.

Cranberry-Raisin Pie: Into a saucepan put two cups of washed cranberries, one-half cup of large seeded raisins and one-half cup of cold water; bring to a boil and let simmer till the cranberries break open. Then add one cup of granulated sugar, and cool. When cold add one and one-half tablespoons of orange juice, one-half cup of cracker crumbs and one beaten egg. Turn this filling into a pan lined with uncooked pastry. Cover the top with pastry strips laid on "lattice fashion". Bake in a hot oven for about 35 minutes.

Breaded Sweetbreads: No matter how you cook sweetbreads, always soak them for an hour in cold water after getting them from the butcher then drain and simmer in hot water containing a few drops of vinegar and a pinch of salt, for 20 minutes; then parboil them. Plunge them in to boiling water to harden, then remove the tubes, skin and bits of fibre without breaking the sweetbreads. This preliminary preparation is always necessary. To make the Breaded Sweetbreads, split the parboiled sweetbreads in halves, lengthwise, and sprinkle with salt, pepper and lemon juice; dip them in fine, dry bread crumbs, then in egg, and once more in the crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat (that is, in fat which is hot enough to brown a cube of white bread in 40 seconds,) till golden brown, then drain and serve.

"Maple Drop Cookies: (Contributed by Mrs. M. P.) Mix together two eggs, one-third cup of butter, one cup of maple syrup and one teaspoon of ground ginger. BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

S.S.S. will rid you of boils, pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorder. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils! It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, etc. It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1836 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

ON EARNING

The only thing we own are the things we earn. The gambler owns nothing.

If the gambler wins big he imagines that he has acquired great wealth. As a matter of fact he has only shifted position with some one else—he is a man of borrowed wealth.

But the man who earns owns outright. He has respect for himself and for the world. He is not distrustful. Illusions pass before his mind, but the things of facts make an impression and his intelligence absorbs. He grows. He is a useful citizen. He has rare understanding.

The man who earns is also a philosopher. The philosopher is the man who stirs the kettle of ideas and plants his feet upon the ground. He discerns. He often does foolish things in order that he may get the reaction to valuable truths. But he always pays the price. In the end, he is a true earner.

No one ever gets anything for nothing. Everything has to be paid for. If it is kept.

Success is a process full of pitfalls, full of tears, full of hardships. Many ride upon the earned success of others, but they only know the crest of the waves for a little while. They live to learn the futility of that which they falsely think, belongs to them.

The world is made up of lifters and loaneers. The lifters are the earners. They are the salt of the earth.

Earners, think in straight lines. They cut no short corners. They make-up the choice and rare Society of Strong Men. They are the ultra earners.

A man takes great pride in the thing which he knows represents the sweat of his brow and the long days and nights of labor sincerely given over to improvement and useful profit. He knows that here is where no thief—no matter how clever—will ever find opportunity to break in or steal.

No one will ever approach perfect contentment in this world, but he who honestly earns will enjoy many a shadow of its genuine self.

ALPHA CONCERN SUES POWER COMPANY FOR DAMAGES FROM FIRE

Alleging that a fire June 6, 1924, which entirely destroyed its elevator and warehouse, with its contents, was caused by excessive voltage of about 33,000 volts transmitted over wires into the elevator. The Alpha Seed and Grain Company has filed suit in Common Pleas Court through its attorney Charles L. Darlington, for $32,100.00 damages against the Dayton Power and Light Company.

Seven intervening petitions have also been filed by insurance companies with which the grain company carried insurance amounting to $9,000. They petition to collect the insurance, which had been paid.

The plaintiff claims the elevator, feed mill and poultry feed plant, were entirely consumed by the blaze with machinery, equipment, and a stock of grain, seeds, flour, feed and other merchandise. A value of $10,350 is placed on the elevator, $13,500 on machinery and equipment, and $8,250 on the stock.

The Dayton Power and Light Company supplied the elevator with electric power and light, and whereas 220 volts was the proper voltage, nearly 33,000 volts were transmitted over the wires resulting in the blaze, according to the petition. The light company was notified of the excess voltage but delayed an unreasonable length of time before amending existing conditions, the feed concern contends.

Among acts of negligence, claimed by the feed company, is that there was no disconnecting switch in the 33,000 volt branch line between the main transmission line of the defendant and the transformer by means of which the high voltage current could have been prevented from passing into the building.

It is claimed high voltage fuses were not provided in the 33,000 volt line to protect the transformer and various other installations in connection, by means of which the current would have been automatically opened when the lightning arresters failed to function properly.

The plaintiff also alleges the ground connection between the lightning arresters and the ground was defective as was known or should have been known by the defendant, and that the connection burned off at the base of the pole upon which it was installed.

Instead of which the transformer was connected to the lightning arresters contrary to standard practice, it is set forth. There was also no device within a distance of seven miles from the elevator to turn the power off, according to the petition.

Insurance totalling $9,000 was carried on the building and contents with the following companies, with the Central Manufacturers Mutual Insurance Company of an Wert, O., $1,000 on the stock; with the Fire Insurance Underwriters of Pennsylvania, $2,000 on the stock; with the National Mutual Insurance Company, $1,000 on the stock and feed; with the Ohio Mutual Insurance Company, $1,000 on building and equipment; with the Columbus County Mutual Insurance Company, $500 on grain, seeds and merchandise, and $500 on machinery; $1,000 on stock, grain and machinery with The American Mutual Insurance Company and $1,000 with the Western Mutual Fire Insurance Company on the stock.

These seven companies have filed intervening petitions to collect the insurance which had been paid. The plaintiff with the agreement that if a third party should be made liable for the fire, the insurance money should be refunded.

The fire occurred during an electrical storm and officials then attributed it to lightning running in on power lines connected with the building. An appeal made to the Dayton Power and Light Company to cut off the transformer resulted in the information that it would have to be cut off at Belmont, and that the company was unable to comply with the request, the plaintiff claims.

CO-OPERATIVE MILK MARKETING EARNED MEMBERS DIVIDEND

The first co-operative cream station was started in Greene County in April, 1922. Since that time 800,000 pounds of butterfat has been marketed through Greene County's co-operative cream stations.

The price paid by old-line companies buying cream outside of the state of Ohio show that on account of the co-operatives here, these companies are paying an average of 4.7 cents more per pound for butterfat here in Ohio than they are paying in territory outside of Ohio where there are no co-operative cream stations.

This means that the members of the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association have marketed 600,000 pounds of butterfat for which they have received $28,200 more on account of co-operation. There has been marketed about 400,000 pounds of butterfat by non-members who have not supported the co-operative movement but who have received almost the same benefits, making a total of approximately 1,000,000 pounds of butterfat marketed bringing a net gain to farmers of $47,000 due entirely to the existence of co-operative marketing cream stations in that territory.

Before the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association started, $2 per hundred pounds was the price paid for milk in the summer and $2.50 for winter production in the Dayton market, the surplus price being much below these prices.

Last year surplus production was greater than any period in recent years, and during this year the Association sold co-operatively in the Dayton market 48,008,125 pounds of milk and received for producers an average price of $2.497 throughout the year for surplus and all other milk—almost $2.50. It is safe to say that the co-operative marketing of milk in one year's time brought producers between 25c to 35c per hundred more than they would have received had they not been members of the Association, or an approximate total gain of $120,000. This amount will be greatly increased by more continued co-operation.

On December 1, 1923, the producers—members of The Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association—will have their Dayton plant and equipment valued at approximately $47,887 paid for, provided payments can be met as they have been up to the present date.

A statement of the amount of each member's equity or ownership in the plant and equipment will be given to members in the very near future. President Coolidge is for co-operative marketing organizations and says, "They must begin with small things, and must have the sincere, courageous, determined support of their members."

We hope that each member of The Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association is President Coolidge's kind of a member. Very sincerely yours,

C. W. LAWRENCE, Gen. Manager.
The Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association

EAGLES WILL STAGE WRESTLING SHOW

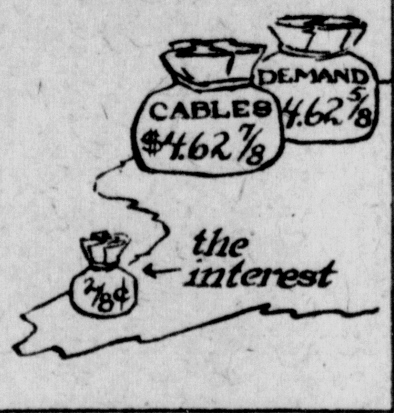

The Eagles Athletic Club will sponsor another wrestling show Wednesday night. Pete Montana, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., will meet George Gattoff, Massillon welter in the main event.

The semi windup will bring together Gene Wead of this city, and Speedy Crawford, colored welter. They met before and the bout was called a draw. This time there is much at stake because the winner of the match will get to grapple regularly on the cards. Wead has been training faithfully for the encounter and is confident he can down the dark skinned grappler. This is bound to be a good match as the boys seem to be about evenly matched. There will be a prelim between two local boys which will start at 8:30 o'clock. Popular prices will prevail.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief and Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

THE CABLE RATE IS THE BASIC RATE —

In the listings of foreign exchange you will often see quoted, "Pounds Sterling—cables, 462 7/8 Demand 462 5/8. 60 day bills 459 7/8." What does this mean?

In foreign exchange, the basic rate is the cable rate. That is, the rate of exchange on money transferred by cable. Slightly behind the cable rate lags the demand rate and then the rate for 60 day bills.

The reason for this is simple. On a cable exchange, the money is transferred the same day (within a few minutes sometimes) between New York and London and the banker completing the transaction loses the benefit of the interest on his money immediately. On the demand bill, however, the banker draws interest on his balance for at least 10 days, as that is the average time it takes to draw, ship, and present a demand bill from New York on London.

With the 60 day bill, the banker has the use of the balance which the bill is drawing on for 60 days before he must pay. The difference between the cable, the demand, and the 60 day rate or exchange is practically always just a difference of interest money. When the difference is more or less than merely interest, speculators jump in and quickly bring the three rates back into their proper interest ratio.

DEATH CLAIMS MAN WELL KNOWN HERE

Xenia relatives have received word of the death of O. P. Shaffer, 81, who was well known in this city, which occurred in Washington, D. C., Saturday, from heart trouble.

Funeral services will be held at Mr. Shaffer's former home in Youngstown, O., Tuesday and W. O. Logan, of this city, will attend the services. Mr. Shaffer resided in this city at the Logan home on East Second Street, for two summers and had a large acquaintance here. His wife preceded him in death last July. One son, Paul Shaffer, of New York City, survives.

MODISH MITZI—The Goofer Does a Bit Of Figuring

By JAY V. JAY

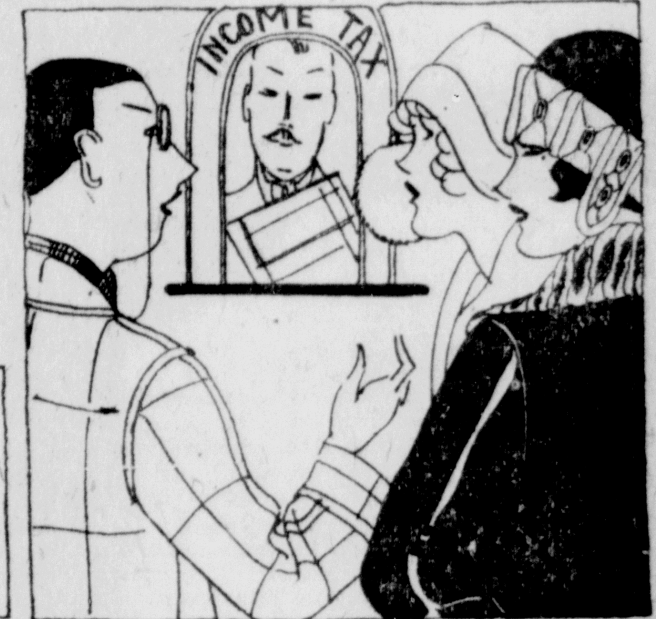

The Goofer is looking disturbed. It's the eleventh hour. And his income tax must be turned in. He's wondering if there ever will be a clothes exemption—how in the world did his income become so much outgo? His blue business suit, he hopes will make him feel more business like.

It's done. Even the check on the first quarter is made out. The Goofer looks a bit thinner but far more cheerful. Well he should. This diamond plaid pullover ought to cheer anybody's life especially its wearer.

With the whole darn business tucked in the inside coat pocket of his ulster the Goofer feels he can meet any man. It's his favorite coat, narrow shoulders, you notice, and large sleeve heads. There is no use worrying, what is spent, even if it is a year's income.

He is so glad he wore his favorite coat. Just after he has had the last rites of the legal proceeding administered, the Goofer finds himself face to face with Polly and Mitzi. He is going to ask them to accompany him to the nearest haberdashery to bolster up flagging spirits with the loudest necktie on sale.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate; then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities, which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will help prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually helps make pimples disappear. adv

Fifty-one Burned and Crushed Bodies Taken From Mine

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Ambulances stood waiting at the mouth of the mine shaft while heroic rescue squads jeopardized their lives in cavernous gas-filled depths to bring forth the dead—there were no living. Black damp impeded the crews.

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Relatives and friends anxiously clustered about shaft. Not a man was spared in the greatest mining tragedy in Indiana's history, 51 men in all perishing when a gas-dust explosion shattered a section of the City mine at Sullivan. In many cases bodies were so burned and mangled that it took hours, after the bodies were brought out of the mine, before definite identification could be accomplished. The mine will be reopened as soon as repairs to the wrecked shaft have been completed.

In Memoriam 3

ANDERSON-Amos Edgar Anderson, son of Thomas and Mary Jane Anderson was born June 13th 1860 and died March 7th 1925.

On December 28th, 1882 he was united in marriage to Clarissa F. Peterson. To them one daughter and one son were born. The daughter, Zana and the wife preceded him in death. The son James T. remains with his mother and sister Elmer DeHaven. The following brothers and sisters also survive Horace Anderson and Harvey Anderson of Xenia, O., Mrs. Kate Stafford and Mrs. Florence Childers of Albany, Ind., and Mrs. Ida Adams of Spring Valley, O.

Mr. Anderson was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church holding his connection at White Chapel.

He will be sorely missed in the home and in the community.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and floral offerings, also Rev. Walley, James T. Anderson.

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

APPLE SAUCE!

The farmer stops planting his clover to pour out his grief on my neck; for he thinks when the harvest is over he'll lose twenty cents on each pack. The teacher is talking of taxes which rob him of all that he gains; and bitter and weary he waxes and loudly he yells and complains.

I stop at the street intersection and list to the voice of the Jay, who thinks the whole world needs correction because it's not going his way. He tells of the dangers before us, and bitter and loud is his squeal; there's hate and there's wrath in his chorus and trash in his silly appeal.

So I turn on my heel from his chatter and flee from his wail and his yell; away from his jabber I patter and leave him rave on in his spell. And so I am weary and cheerless and tired of the tales that I hear; I look for a friend who is fearless to fill me with gospel of cheer. I long for a face that is beaming and patted all over with grins; the smile of a friend who's not dreaming and pointing about all of our sins.

To the splendid old church on the corner I take this old carcass of mine; the preacher is never a scorn, but always a kindly divine. And how sweet is the voice of the preacher with righteousness filled to the brim; who follows in steps of his Teacher, whose sunlight does never grow dim.

And when I am weary and friendless and bored by the grumble I hear; when jabber and gossip is endless and grief is poured into my ear, I long for a kindly good sermon from one filled with faith to the eyes, who thinks not his brothers are vermin, who tells me no cattering lies.

STAND AND SING

There was an old fellow named Daum
Who went for a swim in a calm,
Well, just about dark
He met with a shark—
We will now sing the 99th psalm.

Lou Hopkins was telling us the other day of a poor fellow who walked away from church one day with an umbrella that didn't belong to him. Hopkins says the minister urged each one present to take away something valuable with him and maybe this is all the fellow could find.

YES, THEY HAVE SOME

They have no bananas today.
But they have banana peelings,
I slipped on one, by the way,
And hurt a lot more than my feelings.

FIREMAN INJURED FIGHTING FLAMES AT JAMESTOWN HOME

Fire from unknown origin, destroyed the second story of the residence of William Brads, on Clemans Avenue, Jamestown, early Monday morning.

The blaze was discovered on the roof of the house and made rapid progress, despite the efforts of fire fighters to check it. Furniture in the house was saved. Most of the damage was caused on the second floor by water and smoke.

Hamma Bland, one of the fire fighters, received a painful injury during the fire. He was attempting to remove a hanging lamp in the Brads home and the rod of the lamp fell and struck him on the head, causing a deep gash. Dr. R. L. Haines dressed the injury.

BUREAU FAVORS SANE BUILDING OF ROADS

"Every unit of the Farm Bureau is working on a sensible road building program," according to Representative R. D. Williamson of the Greene County Farm Bureau.

"Both at Washington and in Columbus, Farm Bureau representatives are striving for road legislation that will consider the needs of farmers along with other classes of citizens.

The Farm Bureau has vigorously fought for legislation aimed to make the man who uses the roads pay for them.

At the preceding General Assembly the Farm Bureau favored the law passed reducing assessment on property along the line of improved highways to 15 per cent.

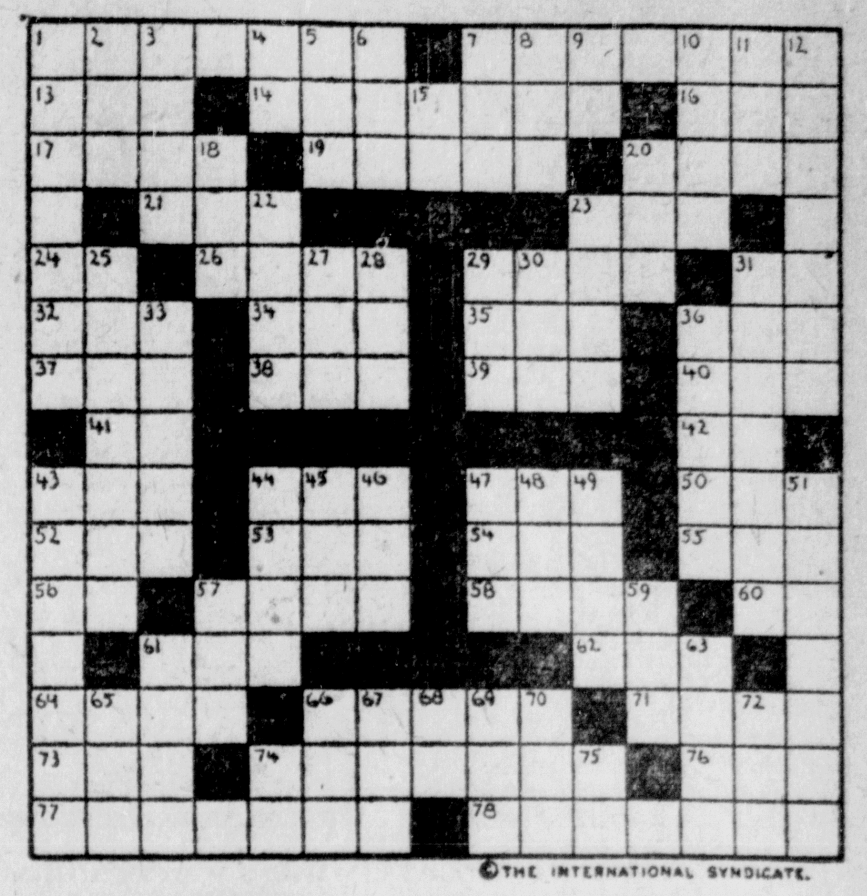

It is now seeking to have the assessment reduced to a maximum of 10 per cent.

In a number of instances over Ohio, the Farm Bureau has been the unit which has sponsored the building of much needed strips by popular subscription or volunteer labor and donated material.

LOOT STORE

Barton, March 16-Joseph Ayers and Mack Reed were arrested here on a charge of looting a store at Bradley, Jefferson County. The arrest followed discovery in a mine, at which Reed is watchman, of a quantity of goods identified as having been stolen from the store. Reed, it was alleged, wore a pair of stolen shoes at the time of his arrest.

ORGANIZATION MAN
ADDRESSES XENIA
TOWNSHIP MEETING

A successful community supper was held by the Xenia Township Farm Bureau at the Second U. P. Church, this city, Friday evening, and 167 residents from every neighborhood in the township were present.

The community supper was the first attempt on the part of Xenia Township to get together and the committees in charge were well pleased and are trusting the interest shown in the meetings will be given to the membership drive of the Farm Bureau.

Following the bountiful covered dish supper arranged by Mrs. J. I. Patterson and her committee, Fred Flynn, Xenia Township chairman, introduced C. S. Hamby of the General Organization Company of Chicago. Through his wide acquaintance with organization work all over the United States, Mr. Hamby felt that three of the major requirements in any sort of organization work had a most practical application to farm organization work. These three requirements he insisted must be: faith in the organization, a desire to pull together and nerve to look into the future.

Five-minute talks given by the Rev. C. P. Prouditt, Mrs. D. B. Page, F. P. Hastings and Herman Eavey, further emphasized the key points that Mr. Hamby had brought out. W. B. Bryson, president of the County Farm Bureau, outlined the plan that the association has undertaken to stimulate interest in Farm Bureau activities and swell the membership.

The meeting was only one of hundreds held this week over the state.

STAFFORD GIVEN
SUSPENDED TERM

Harold Stafford, Xenia, was given a suspended sentence of one year in the reformatory at Mansfield, by Judge R. L. Gowdy, in Common Pleas Court Saturday morning on an indictment charging the theft of an automobile.

The sentence was suspended on condition that Stafford's future behavior continued good, and that he reimburse the man from whom he stole the machine for damages.

Stafford was indicted by the grand jury, on a joint charge of auto stealing with his companion Elmer Bowmaster and pleaded guilty when arraigned, later changing his plea to one of guilty.

XENIA POOL STARS
BEAT JAMESTOWN

A Xenia match pool team defeated the Jamestown table artists by twenty-seven points in a return game at the Hustmyer Billiard Parlors Friday night. Jamestown had beaten Xenia earlier in the season. The score was 27 to 346.

Glass made the high run of the evening when he shot forty while Painter was best for Xenia and high scorer of the match.

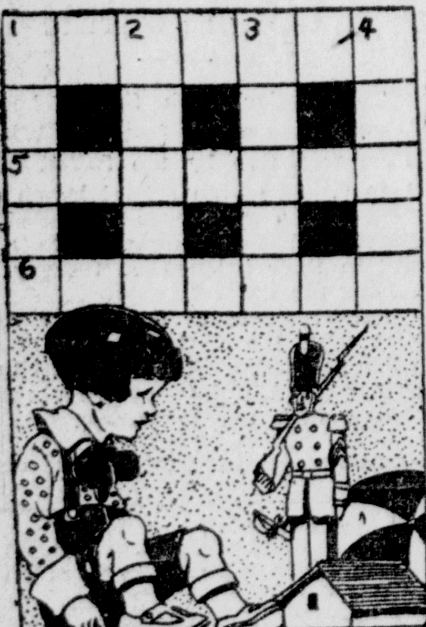

The local team included Robinette, Ledbetter, Painter and Fox. Miller, Hopkins, Glass and Lane played for Jamestown.

Xenia will play the rub game with Jamestown Tuesday night at Jamestown.

YESTERDAY'S JUNIOR
PUZZLE ANSWER

BRINGING UP FATHER

One Wife on Approval
by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA LELAND'S husband, Jim, has gone to Honolulu shortly after their marriage, following a misunderstanding with his wife, and has taken his mother with him, leaving Cynthia to face the disapproval of her sister-in-law, LOUELLA, and all her world. Cynthia turns to

CECILE MALCOLM, leader of the town's gayest set, and accepts the friendship of

NOEL GARDNER, the town's black sheep, going with them to a mid-winter house party at Cecile's mountain cabin.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XXXVIII—CONFIDENCES

WHAT would Jim Leland do when he got home? What would he say when he heard that his wife had been snowbound in a deserted summer cottage for three days with Noel Gardner?

Cynthia had no more idea what the answers to those questions would be than had the women who gossiped about her. She talked them over with Noel the next day.

"Jim will believe me when I tell him the truth about our being lost in the woods, I'm sure of that," Cynthia said. "He's sure to, but I can't always count on him, but I'm positive that I can in this case."

"Well, yes, I agree with you that far," answered Noel. "But I can't tell how he'll take things. He may be darned disagreeable, you know. I knew Jim as a kid, and he's no broader-minded than his mother. He's likely to feel that he has to forgive you, as if you'd done something wrong, and make it rather uncomfortable for you forever after. Tell me, Cynthia—how did you happen to marry him, anyway? He doesn't seem to me to be at all the kind of chap you'd pick for a husband."

"Oh, I was so lonely, and he was so good to me. You see, I'd just come from one set of aunts and uncles and cousins to another all my life after my parents died. I'd never had a home of my own. I was always visiting in somebody else's, except when I was away at school. And then Jim came along, and he seemed so kind and steady and dependable, and I did care a lot for him—I'm not the first woman who's mistaken that feeling for love, you know!"

"So you were married and came here, and I found his whole family running me, and even though Jim was kind, he sided with them against me. I do think that a young married couple should have the first two years alone, so that they can really get to know each other! Jim and I seemed to be always misunderstanding each other. I was always doing something I thought was all right, that he thought was simply dreadful! And his mother was always stepping in between us. Now—"

"Now you're going to get a divorce from Jim and marry me," Noel cut in, quickly. "And I'm going to take care of you for the rest of your life. I'm going to make you happy."

"But what if Jim doesn't want a divorce? We can't do anything then."

"Then I'm going to kidnap you," he answered, quietly. "I know that you'd never run away from him, but I'm not going to let you ruin your life by sticking with him, and having him and his family look down on you forever. You'd stick it out, I know. But I won't have that." He was quite capable of carrying out his threat, she knew. The opinion of other people meant nothing to him. They could live abroad, of course, till Jim divorced her, and then they could be married. It was not a picture she liked—and yet how could she remain with Jim, under the constant disapproval of his family? That would be even worse. Oh, how had she contrived to make such a mess of her life!

She thought of the various women of her acquaintance; any one of them would have handled the situation so easily. Louella would never have got into it in the first place; she would always have been happy in the life that Jim and his mother decreed.

And Cecile would never have hesitated for an instant if she knew that Noel loved her. She would gaily have thrown her bonnet over the windmill and followed him to the ends of the earth.

But then, Noel wouldn't have fallen in love with a woman who was capable of taking things that way.

"Have you any idea of when Jim will be here?" Noel went on, after a few moments' silence.

"He ought to be home within two weeks," Cynthia answered slowly. "I haven't heard exactly." Even to Noel she hated to admit that Jim's letters were rare, and that they said very little.

"Then we can settle this thing soon," Jim said of that. Noel replied. "I'd suggest that you make arrangements to bring suit at once, as soon as you've reached an agreement with Jim, and then you might go away for a while, and I could join you later, and we'd be married."

Cynthia said nothing. It seemed such a hard-hearted way of going about things. And she was to be dumped back and forth like a bag of meal, with all this divorcing and remarrying going on over her head, so to speak!

Perhaps if she and Jim had known each other better before they were married—perhaps if she'd met Noel before she married Jim—her mind whirled between the two possibilities. She began to feel that anything would be preferable to the state of affairs that now prevailed.

WILL ASK JURY TO INDICT SHEPHERD

SCORE OF WITNESSES
TO OFFER EVIDENCE IN M'CLINTOCK CASE

Crowe Arranges Series of
Incidents On Which to Base Charges

Chicago, March 16.—The state's promise to William D. Shepherd, indictment for murder or freedom—was ready for fulfillment here today.

A score of witnesses, marshalled in another long night of investigation and grilling, were prepared to go before a grand jury and translate the many ugly rumors and insinuations which have grown out of the death of William Nelson McClintock, Shepherd's foster son, into concrete facts, and evidence to support the seven points of circumstantial evidence on which States Attorney Robert E. Crowe has demanded that Shepherd be held for criminal trial.

They were prepared to state, according to the state's attorneys office, how Billy McClintock had made Shepherd the chief heir to the McClintock fortune; how Shepherd saw that fortune slipping away from him as a death bed marriage of his last blood heir and Miss Isabelle Pope was being arranged; how Shepherd prevented the marriage by false statements to McClintock's fiancée, regarding the regulations for securing a marriage certificate; how Shepherd had engaged in secret study of bacteriology; how Shepherd had access to typhoid germs; how such germs were stolen from a place that Shepherd frequented and how, after McClintock had died of typhoid fever, Shepherd used his newly acquired wealth in an effort to destroy evidence of his bacteriological research.

All these alleged facts and more will be told by the first four witnesses before the grand jury and their testimony alone, Crowe said today, should be sufficient to warrant the indictment. Other corroborative witnesses will be called to strengthen the chain of evidence but it is on the first four the state is counting for the success of its case.

These will be Dr. C. C. Farnham, president of the National University of Science, whose alleged confession that Shepherd had been a one week student at his university, had studied bacteriology there and had left the university about the time three virulent germ cultures including at least one culture of typhus had disappeared, was largely responsible for the state's decision to seek the indictment; John P. Marchand salesman for the school who testified at the McClintock inquest that Shepherd had written a letter to the university inquiring about courses in bacteriology; Dr. George Fosberg, to whom Shepherd is said to have applied for information concerning poisons, their administration and the chances of their postmortem discovery and Judge Harry Olson, "counsel for the dead" friend of the McClintock family and chief instigator of the death probe.

Another witness, considered important for corroboration will be Dr. Eugene A. O'Connor. He was brought into the case last night by one of the score of investigators from the state attorney's office who, since Saturday have been combing the city for additional evidence. Dr. O'Connor is said to have been in Marchand's office when Shepherd's missing letter to the university was being discussed. The letter is said to have been bought back by Shepherd for $50.

If necessary, Crowe said today, Miss Pope also will testify. She is being brought back from California to be held in readiness but the state attorney's office intimated that this move was being made rather to have her for the probable trial than for the grand jury.

ROBINSON LOSES CASE ON APPEAL

London, March 16.—Charles Robinson's suit against the Midland bank in an effort to collect $650,000 of the money extracted from Sir Hari Singh in the famous "Mister A" blackmail case, will fall in the court of appeals the latter court announced today.

Only the question of costs of the first suit will be considered, the court said.

LEGISLATURE WILL HOLD SESSION NEXT YEAR TO CODIFY LAWS, IS WORD

Committees Will Prepare Codifications During Year, It Is Said—Brown Gas Tax and Bible Bills To Occupy Attention This Week.

Columbus, O. March 16.—The legislature is coming back to Columbus March 1, 1926, an "off" year — to enact codifications of laws from the governing taxation, elections and criminal court procedure, according to plans of legislative leaders.

During the year's legislative recess after adjournment of the present session April 17, three special legislative committees are scheduled to labor on the tasks of codifying these laws and their reports are expected to be ready for submission to the special session for enactment into law.

The session next year will be limited to this specific purpose. Adjournment of the present session will be to March 1, next but provision will be made for the law makers may be called together again by officers if the need arises before that time.

The special session is expected

"BANKS OF WABASH" DECIDEDLY WET AS FLOOD WATERS RAGE

Thousands Of Dollars Worth Of Damage Caused By Indiana's Boasted Stream

Terre Haute, Ind., March 16.—With miles of the countryside under water and the rampant Wabash River continuing to rise slowly here, hundreds of families in the lowlands fled their homes to the protected districts.

Flood damage already has mounted to thousands of dollars. Bridges were washed away, roads undermined and scores of small farm buildings swept along in the path of the flood.

The Wabash River here stood at nineteen feet this morning with further rise inevitable as twenty one feet were reported at Clinton, fifteen miles north.

Steam lines as well as interurban roads, were forced to curtail service throughout the district when the flood waters failed to recede. From Peru, Ind., northward, no cars have been operated since early Saturday when the situation first became alarming.

No loss of life has been reported. The waters rose slowly, enabling all families in the flooded district to receive ample warning and flee with most of their belongings.

NEW SCOUT PLAN

Defiance, March 16.—Organization of Boy Scout work on a district basis, and to employ an expert supervisor, is being considered here. The plan is to maintain an efficient organization at much less expense than would be incurred if each town hired an executive. Bryan, Montpelier, Bowling Green, Van Wert and Defiance are contemplated as prospects for membership in the proposed organization.

MAN WHO PYRAMIDED $3.75 INTO FORTUNE ASSERTS INNOCENCE

Expect Difficulty Getting Jury—Stockholders To Give Testimony

Cleveland, March 16.—Buttressed by an imposing array of legal counsel, Josiah Kirby, founder and first president of the Cleveland Discount Company and Raymond L. Poland, its former treasurer, went on trial in Common Pleas Court today, charged with issuance of a false statement in violation of the state blue sky laws.

Mrs. Kirby, who had come across the continent from California, sat by the side of her husband as the trial opened. Former Appellate Judge Walter Meals, Luther Day and Joseph C. Brientein were at Kirby's counsel table. The state was represented by special prosecutors Charles Higley, Joseph I. Eagleson and David E. Green.

It was anticipated that several days would be taken in securing a jury, due to the fact that more than ten thousand stockholders in the discount company reside here.

Kirby was confident of prompt acquittal when court opened.

"I am innocent of the charge against me," he declared.

"I am completely confident that I shall be vindicated by the court and jury."

Will H. Hoppe, of Tiffin, O., is one of the largest stockholders in the discount company and who acted as president for a short time following Kirby's resignation two years ago.

Kirby was confident of prompt acquittal when court opened.

Kirby's indictment, the result of the work of a special grand jury empaneled by direction of Governor A. V. Donahue, climaxed a career the like of which has rarely been known in the history of financial institutions.

Kirby, once rich and prosperous as a young man in Cincinnati, came here a few years ago, with $3.75 in his pocket.

Starting in here as a salesman, he soon gained a reputation as a man who could "sell anything." He opened a small office and prospered, although more than once angry creditors from Cincinnati took even his office chair to satisfy debts contracted in that city.

Finally he organized the Cleveland Discount Company, and under his driving the company soon became one of the largest concerns of its kind in the United States. Branch offices for the sale of stock were opened in Los Angeles, Chicago, New York and a score of other cities throughout the country, and the company erected a magnificent skyscraper in downtown Cleveland as its permanent home. The resources of the company continued to grow, and the last published statement revealed total assets of more than $40,000,000.

In the meantime Kirby had engaged in a spectacular fight with John D. Rockefeller, the oil king—and won. Securing an option on the Rockefeller Building—one of the landmarks of downtown Cleveland—he changed its name to the "Kirby Building," despite court action by the Rockefeller interests to maintain the historic name there. Upon the top of this building he placed a sign, "Kirby," in electric letters, "large enough," he explained, "to be seen in Cincinnati," the scene of his first failure.

As a sideline he took over the presidency of the Cleveland Yacht Club, and he put that defunct organization on its feet, retiring later because there was "nothing further to do."

Early in 1922 rumors were circulated in financial circles that the Cleveland Discount Company was in trouble. The affair was climaxed one morning when a committee of bankers announced that Kirby had resigned the presidency. Then followed efforts to avoid court action, but receivers were finally named by the state courts. An action to declare the concern bankrupt failed when the Federal Court upheld the finding of a special Master in Chancery, who found the company solvent.

Kirby, after leaving the presidency, left the city and went to California, where he was tried and acquitted on charges of selling stocks not permitted by the laws of that state.

Last summer, at the request of Cleveland citizens, Governor Donahue ordered a special grand jury to probe the sale of securities by Kirby and others. At the same time the Federal authorities took action looking to Kirby's indictment on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

TO LIGHT STREETS

Pomeroy, March 16.—Competitive bidding has been ordered by council for the first time for street lighting in Pomeroy. Bids will be taken early in the coming months. At the same meeting, councilmen considered the proposal of a 50-cent service charge per month for gas consumers and ignored a request by a power company for permission to cut its rates.

OFFICIAL SUICIDES
Tiffin, O. March 16.—George T. West, 68, Tiffin service and safety director for the past four years, shot and killed himself at his home here today. He was found by members of his family who were out of doors at the time, but who heard the shot. The shooting occurred in the pantry shortly after breakfast.

No reason for the deed is assigned, other than that West had been in poor health for two years. He had been unable to attend his official duties for three months.

West was formerly a stone contractor.

Dayton, March 16.—One woman was killed, a man was probably fatally injured and four other persons were hurt when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into the side of a B. and O. special freight train at the old Troy pike crossing on the belt railroad, a few hundred feet north of the corporation line, at 12:15 o'clock this morning.

Hiss Helen Lowe, 23, Urbana, O., is dead.

Clark Hamm, 22, Urbana, is not expected to live. Both legs were severed between the knees and the hips.

Roger Rust, 33, Urbana, driver of the auto, suffered lacerations on the arms and possible internal injuries.

Ethel Parke, 22, Urbana, lacerated on both legs.

Alston Pickrell, 27, Urbana, injuries to his head and shoulders.

Pauline Detwiler, 20, West Liberty, O., was uninjured.

The body of Miss Lowe, which was severed just above the hips, was taken to an undertaking parlor.

Miss Detwiler said the party had attended the performance of the Music Box Revue at the Victory Theater last night and was enroute home when the accident occurred.

She said she was not aware of the presence of the train until the automobile crashed into the side of the slowly moving cars.

The train, carrying two locomotives and a caboose, was backing into North Dayton when the accident occurred. The caboose crossed the road and was followed by the two engines.

The automobile crashed into the train just between the caboose and the adjoining engine. The train moved approximately 100 feet after the auto crashed into it.

It is thought the force of the crash hurled Miss Lowe through the windshield of the auto onto the tracks between the caboose and locomotive. Wheels of both engines passed over the body.

Hamm was thrown under the wheels of the engine.

Psychic Broadcasting Is Complaint Of Radio Fans

Washington, March 16.—There's a lot of funny business going on in the air these days and nights—if a pile of letters on the desk of Chief Radio Inspector Terrell, in the department of commerce tells the truth.

Officials were puzzled today over the receipts of an unusual number of complaints from persons in widely separated parts of the country that "psychic broadcasting stations" are operating.

"Queer voices" making "spectral threats," have come to them via radio, according to some of the complainants.

Some of the letters obviously are the work of unsound minds — "nut letters"—as they are described in government circles—but others are not. Names of the writers are withheld, but department officials told today of "one will known New York woman" who visited the office of the radio inspector and demanded a government investigation of her case. She said that for six months she had been the recipient of threatening messages via radio, communicated to her mind by psychic radio.

Another letter complained of "head to head" communication, setting forth that such communication was simple when the persons were properly magnetized.

One California correspondent declared the ether was full of "hell hounds," whose stations were scattered throughout the world broadcasting and amplifying a "wicked master mind intent upon world destruction."

The writer ascribed the destroyer disaster of the Pacific coast a year ago to the loss of a number of steamers and other catastrophes to the wicked machinations of this psychic radio personality.

Whatever it's all about, department heads are puzzled.

And the department has not yet succeeded in solving the material problem of radio interference and is cautious about tackling a new field containing such elements as the mental broadcasting of powerful wills, and eerie, weird communication between the worlds.

SCHOOL CHILDREN STRIKE OVER EDICT

Strasbourg, Alsace Lorraine, Mar. 16.—Thirty per cent of Strasbourg's school children remained at home or at their play today in response to Bishop Ruch's proclamation requesting they strike against the government's edict requiring abolition of sectarian schools.

MORE MOTORS

Columbus, March 16.—Motor passenger cars and trucks, operated in Ohio last year were 17 per cent greater, in the aggregate, than those operating in this state in 1923. It was stated by officials of the Ohio Motor Owners' Association. Revised figures, it was said, show that 1,050,041 passenger cars and 153,389 trucks were in operation last year in the Buckeye state.

ATTORNEY WAIVES EXAMINATION FOR CONSPIRACY CASE

Barnett Will Stand Trial At Cleveland On Federal Liquor Offense

Columbus, O. March 16.—W. E. Barnett, Columbus, attorney today waived preliminary examination and will stand trial in the Northern Ohio United States district court at Cleveland on a charge of conspiring to violate federal prohibition laws.

His bond was continued at $2500.

Announcement of Barnett's decision was made by Attorney Beecher W. Waltemire, Columbus, former member of the state utilities commission, Barnett's counsel, when United States Commissioner Wright resumed his hearing on the question of ordering removal of former federal prohibition Director Russell, Merle Copeland, who was an executive clerk in Russell's office and Barnett to the federal court at Cleveland.

Russell, Copeland and Barnett recently, along with six other persons, were jointly indicted by the federal grand jury at Cleveland on the conspiracy charge.

Russell again took the witness stand when Commissioner Wright resumed his hearing today.

WIND DESTROYS NEST

Brownhead, March 16.—The bald-headed eagles' nest which has been on a tree here for 30 years is no more. The wind knocked down the nest which weighed a ton. Western Reserve University station near the tree. Last Thanksgiving Day, one of the eagles was slain.

FRIENDLY ATTITUDE OF GREAT BRITAIN ON CONFERENCE SHOWN

English Favor Proposed Disarmament Meeting In Washington D. C. This Year

London, March 16.—Great Britain's friendly attitude toward the proposed disarmament conference was demonstrated again today in a statement from the foreign office.

"Great Britain believes the disarmament conference should have the widest scope but realizes there is difficulty regarding land armaments."

"England would be pleased if President Coolidge could surmount this difficulty," the statement read.

The foreign office said England was hopeful that the submarine problem could be coped with, but realized that the question of aerial armaments would be hindered by the problem of differentiating between civil and military aviation.

Reports reaching here from France indicated France will demand her security must be assured before she enters such a conference. It was also reported France is unwilling to discuss cruisers or submarines.

Lord Beaverbrook's London Express says France will use her tremendous air forces as a club over Great Britain to secure an agreeable security pact. On the other hand there are reports that Great Britain is willing to use allied debts as a threat against France should she attempt to block the conference.

POLICEMAN THWARTS ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

Alliance, O., March 16.—It is believed Patrolman E. H. Roger of Alliance frustrated an attempt to rob the Peoples' bank of this city at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The patrolman believes that during an exchange of shots with five men, who stopped an automobile in front of the bank building, he wounded two of them and that their capture will be affected when a net thrown out about doctors and hospitals is drawn in by the police departments of neighboring cities.

RENICK W. DUNLAP OF KINGSTON, OHIO, IS NOMINATED FOR POST

Senate Adamant In Face of Coolidge Defy On Warren Case.

Washington, D. C.—By a vote of forty-six to thirty-nine the Senate rejected the nomination of Charles B. Warren for attorney general for the second time this afternoon.

Washington, March 16.—Renick W. Dunlap, of Kingston, O., was nominated today by President Coolidge to be assistant secretary of agriculture.

Dunlap has spent practically his entire life in active farming and was secretary of the state board of agriculture of Ohio in 1915.

Washington, March 16.—President Coolidge, having defied the new senate to keep Charles B. Warren out of his cabinet, that body prepared today to reject his attorney general nomination for the second time.

The president's threat to give Warren a recess appointment projected a new issue of constitutional powers into the clash between the executive and the senate. The Warren opposition again openly charged the president with attempting to override the senate's constitutional authority "to advise and consent on cabinet appointments" and grimly announced that the Warren appointment would be rejected as many times as the executive named him to head the department of justice.

The president sent word to administration leaders of the senate that he had in no wise retreated from the position he took Saturday night when he defied the senate to prevent Warren entering the cabinet. The president was reported as willing to make a national issue out of the controversy since he felt the senate had used a cabinet position as a "political football." His spokesman said he was determined on a finish fight.

The senate convened at 10:30 this morning for the final act in the Warren drama. An agreement provided for four hours debate before the final vote and with that taken, a recess was planned, until tomorrow to give the president opportunity to consider its final action on the Warren nomination.

"We won't adjourn the special session," Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, minority leader, said "until the president says he has no further information to submit."

BATH PULLS SURPRISE BY WINNING BOYS' DIVISION OF TOURNEY AT ANTIOCH COLLEGE

BY L. J. WONES

Yellow Springs, March 16.—By no means a surprise, Bath pulled off a victory in the boys' division of the Antioch college basketball tournament.

Yellow Springs High School won the boys' division of the Antioch college basketball tournament by defeating Bath 21 to 10.

Bath boys were forced to play one more game than their opponents and they showed lots of endurance. The game as a whole was fast and kept the large crowd on edge and excited. Fisher was high man with five field goals and four fouls giving him a total of fourteen points. Fulton hit the net four times from the field and once from the foul line for a total of nine points. Campbell at guard also played well on the defense. The entire team showed up well and its passwork was the best seen in the tournament.

Bath's two forwards, Fisher and Fulton, defeated Ross. These lads scored all but one point for their team. Fisher was high man with five field goals and four fouls giving him a total of fourteen points. Fulton hit the net four times from the field and once from the foul line for a total of nine points. Campbell at guard also played well on the defense. The entire team showed up well and its passwork was the best seen in the tournament.

Gordon and Knecht did most of the scoring. The former found the net three times from the field and once from the foul line while the latter was high man with the same number of field goals but tossed one more foul. Kavanaugh played a nice game at center and scored once from the field and twice from the free throw line. Ross fought hard to stay off the floor but was just up against a better team. Both teams had some tough luck with their shooting.

Bath gained possession of the ball after the tip off and worked it down for a short one that Fisher missed. Boots tried a long one which went wide but Fisher was right on the job and followed it up perfectly for the first score of the game. Deck came through with a long one shortly after and tied the score at two all. Fulton put his team in the front with a ringer from the side and Fisher increased Bath's lead with a fielder as the quarter ended with Bath in front by a 6 to 2 count.

Ross got going in the second period and played on ever better with his rivals. Gordon started it with a short one and Knecht followed suit knotting the score for the second time. Knecht tossed a foul that put his team in the lead for the first time. Fisher dribbled in for a short one that again sent his team in the lead by an 8 to 7 score. Shade fouled Knecht and he made good on the throw, tying the score. Knecht tossed a long one giving his team a two point lead. Fisher and Fulton made baskets and these two fielders gave them a 12 to 11 lead as the half ended. Fisher fouled Gordon as the gun cracked and he made good on the attempt.

Ross made a nice comeback and out-bathed Bath in the third quarter scoring eight points while Bath was tattered but five. Shade tossed a foul, knotting the score at twelve all. Knecht took a pass from Deck, and dribbled in for a closeup shot that broke the tie. Kavanaugh added a foul and Ross was in front by a 15 to 12 score. Campbell tossed a foul and Fisher made two from the charity line that again brought them in a deadlock. Gordon sunk one in from the side. Kavanaugh dribbled from under Bath's basket to the center of the floor and tried a long one which failed but he followed it nicely giving his team a four point lead. Fulton obtained the ball on the tipoff and set the Bath rooters wild when he looped a long one through, the quarter ending with Ross in front by a 19 to 17 score.

The last period was hard fought and baskets were scarce. Fulton, after a few minutes of play, found the net from the field. Gordon duplicated his feat. Fisher sunk a short one that knotted the score at 21. Kavanaugh fouled Fisher and he tossed two good ones from the free throw line that put his team in front by a 23 to 21 score. Kavanaugh was next with a free throw and Fulton duplicated his feat as the game ended. Bath played good ball throughout but was a bit rough. Boots, center, was ejected from the game on personal fouls. The entire team made eleven fouls and if Ross could have made several more of his free attempts count, it would have won. Ross had thirteen tries and made six good.

Lineup and summary: Bath (24) Ross (22) Fisher RF Gordon LF Knecht C Fulton LG Kavanaugh RG Shade RG Shiley Campbell LG Deck. Substitutions: Bath—Shultneek for Boots. Field goals—Fisher 5, Fulton 4, Gordon 3, Knecht 3, Peck, Kavanaugh.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrant and you appear years younger.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

A Ford sedan, owned by John Pitschke, of Jamestown stolen from where it was parked Friday evening on West Third Street, was found abandoned in a field outside the city limits on the Cincinnati Pike early Saturday morning. It was reported at the Greene County Auto Club.

The machine was apparently in good condition with nothing damaged.

YELLOW SPRINGS IS WINNER OF HONORS AT ANTIOCH TOURNEY

BY L. J. WONES

Yellow Springs girls experienced no difficulty in downing Bath 21 to 10. The game was fast in spots but after the Yellow Springs bunch once located the net the contest dragged.

Yellow Springs has a fine team and the two centers are in a part responsible for their win over Bath as both know just what to do with the ball when they get it. Their reach and knowing when and where to pass was too much of a handicap to the Bath sextet which fought and played the best way it knew how.

Donley was the big noise for the winners with five fielders. She was one of the best forwards in the meet. No matter how close the guard was to her she could evade her some way and get the ball in the net or pass off to the other forward. Littleton was also good and played nice ball scoring nine points for her team.

Carr and Conifer, the two centers, played fine ball and did some excellent passing. Weiss was the main stay on defense. She took the ball off the bank board nicely and started the offense.

T. Beal starred for Bath girls with three fielders and one foul. Merrick at the other front position found the net once from the field and also dropped in one from the foul line.

Littleton was first to score with a foul. She had another chance from the foul line a moment later but missed. Merrick put her team in the lead with a field goal but Donley sunk a nice one giving her team a 3 to 2 lead at this juncture. Littleton tossed another foul and Donley dropped in one from the field as the first quarter ended with Yellow Springs in front by a 6 to 2 score.

Yellow Springs played a tight guarding game in the second quarter and held Bath scoreless again while it scored three fielders and one foul for a 13 to 2 lead at the half.

The third and fourth quarters were a little more evenly contested as both teams scored eight points but the early lead Yellow Springs obtained was too much for Bath to overcome. Dudley, who worked the game, was given the "razz" by the Bath crowd who thought he was not fair. Dudley's work was satisfactory to Earl Prugh, who was in

Ross, at forward for Xenia, scored five fielders for ten points. The lineup and summary: Cadets (25) Paul M. E. (27) Zog Ross LF Merritt LF Turney RG Oblinger McLaren LG Deterle Field goals—Ross 5, Zog 3, Turney 3, Deterle 1, Turney 11, Merritt 1, Morrison 1. Foul goals: Turney 1, Turney 1.

TAX LEGISLATION IMPORTANT PART OF BUREAU PROGRAM

Taxation has occupied a prominent place in the program of the Farm Bureau.

This applies to every unit in government from the township to the country at large.

The state Federation, during the preceding General Assembly helped to secure the passage of the Griswold Debt Limitation Law, curbing the power of taxing officials to go into debt.

It requires that bond issues shall be serial and be paid when due.

It successfully fought many radical and ill considered measures.

At present, the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation is seeking the passage of several measures pending before the General Assembly including—

Strengthening of the present debt laws and enactment of adequate budget laws for all taxing districts.

Opposing further issuance of tax free securities, unless provisions are made for an income tax returns from them.

Reappraisal of all property not re-assessed, and periodical appraisements at true values.

Tax on automobiles and gasoline designed to make the man who wears out the roads pay for them.

Reduction of assessment on property along the line of improved state highways to a maximum of 10 per cent, providing that the assessment should not be more than 10 per cent of the duplicate value of the land, and that the assessment be based on cost of road suitable for farm needs.

The American Farm Bureau Federation helped secure the reduction on the national income tax, and successfully fought many measures inimical to the interest of agriculture.

CADETS DEFEATED BY DAYTON TOSSERS

The O. S. and S. O. Home Cadets basketball team lost to the St. Paul M. E. team at the Home Armory Saturday night in a close contest by a score of 27 to 25. The result was in doubt until the last few seconds of play when Turvey caged the basket that put the Dayton five into the lead. Turvey was easily the star performer of the game making twenty-three points.

Ross, at forward for Xenia, scored five fielders for ten points. The lineup and summary: Cadets (25) Paul M. E. (27) Zog Ross LF Merritt LF Turney RG Oblinger McLaren LG Deterle Field goals—Ross 5, Zog 3, Turney 3, Deterle 1, Turney 11, Merritt 1, Morrison 1. Foul goals: Turney 1, Turney 1.

Sporttime Stories BROADCAST BY STATION WONES

Bath boys' team rather upset the dope when it copped from Ross at Yellow Springs Saturday night and won the Greene County boys' championship. Cedarville and Beaver Creek were doped to win or rather play each other in the finals as both had good clubs and finished in a tie for first place in the county league. Ross was also given a chance and did come through, winning two games but losing out in the finals to Bath. Cedarville lost to Bath in the first round by a 14 to 9 score while Beaver Creek stayed until the semi-finals and lost an overtime game to Bath by 16 to 15 score. Bath finished in fifth place in the county league and it was for this reason it was looked upon as nothing out of the ordinary.

Bath displayed championship ball in the meet, winning four games. This required lots of stamina and grit. Bath had a hard tussle with Cedarville while it required an overtime period to win from Bowersville. They nosed Beaver Creek out in an overtime game while they engaged Ross in the finals in a grueling contest.

It was the consensus of opinion that Ross would beat Bath on account of the three hard games in which the winners had been engaged. But the Bath lads surprised even the most ardent followers and won for themselves the first county meet in the history of the school.

It was not surprising to see Yellow Springs girls walk away with honors in the girls' meet as they had lost but two from last season's team. With four regulars back, Coach "Slim" Dawson built a powerful team that was easily the class of the meet. Donley, Littleton and Carr displayed championship ball for the Springs bunch. Cedarville had a good club but lost to the up county sextet in the first round. Beaver Creek was rather a disappointment as the writer looked for it to go in the finals but, like Cedarville, it tasted defeat in the first round at the hands of Bath girls.

"Tacks" Latimer of this city, who is serving a term at the Ohio Penitentiary will manage and coach the Pen team this season. Latimer is a former major leaguer having played in big time ball for fifteen seasons. He was with the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Pittsburgh Pirates. He also played in the A. A. loop with Louisville and Minneapolis. When he was a scout for the Pirates he is credited with having discovered Bobby Vail and Red Faber. Latimer managed a Cincinnati railroad team that played games here at old Reserve ball park about five years ago. This will be the first time since baseball has been played within the walls of the penitentiary that the team will be managed by an inmate.

REPORT OF PROBING COMMITTEE OF HOME OFFERED THIS WEEK

A report of the findings of the special senate investigating committee which probed conditions at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home here, will be completed and submitted to the senate and Governor Vic Donahey the latter part of this week, Senator L. T. Marshall, Xenia, head of the committee, declared Saturday.

Miss Elsie Canby, court stenographer here, has completed the transcript of testimony given at the secret hearing in Xenia and Columbus, and presented her notes to the committee Monday in detail.

The investigating committee has been marking time pending the transcribing of the notes, according to Senator Marshall.

Asked if the committee was satisfied with its case on the testimony produced on conditions at the Home, Senator Marshall declared the members had never discussed the question.

The report will probably be made public when delivered, it is understood.

TRINITY HOME GUARDS HOLD MEETING SATURDAY

Home Guards of Trinity M. E. Church were guests of Miss Donna Devoe, Saturday afternoon at her home, and twenty-five boys and girls attended the meeting.

A "buffalo round-up" was a feature of the meeting when the "buffaloes" (nickels) were sent down a shoot into a "pen" and the owners, told how they won their money.

Miss Frances Hamlin gave a reading and Miss Margjorie Haines gave a recitation. Mrs. George Street read the lesson chapter and refreshments were served at the close of the program, with St. Patrick's Day favors. Miss Devoe was given a Home Guard pin in reward for her faithful work to the society.

ZIMMERMAN

Miss Thelma Brewer and Mr. Robert W. Frey were united in marriage Tuesday, February 24, 1925, at the home of the Rev. J. H. Eldemiller, near Carlyle, the latter performing the ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a dress of grey canton crepe, with grey accessories, cranberry colored coat and black patent pumps.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brewer, of near Zimmerman, a graduate of the Dayton public schools, the Beaver Creek Township High School and of Miami Jacobs Business College. She has held a position as stenographer with the American Display Company, Dayton for two and one half years. She is a very attractive, popular and accomplished young lady.

The groom is the son of William F. Frey, wholesale merchant of Dayton, and is associated in business with his father. He is a graduate of Stivers High School and of Denison University and was pledged to Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frey went directly after the ceremony to their own home at 5 Bradford Street, Dayton, where they are at home to their many friends.

Lewis Bailey, wife and son and daughter, visited his father, Marion Bailey and wife, Sunday and attended services at Zimmerman Sunday morning and afternoon.

William Zimmerman of Piqua attended church at this place Sunday morning and afternoon, and dined with his father, Cornelius Zimmerman and family.

A very large crowd of friends and relatives attended the funeral of Mrs. Viola Gray Long, 24, at the church in Zimmerman Sunday afternoon.

The service was in charge of Rev. Eldemiller. Several selections were sung by Mrs. Lester Shoup, Mrs. Jesse Johnson and brother, Carl McMichael. There were many beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Long had been in poor health for several years and after the death from tuberculosis of her sister, Mrs. Chester Cyphers some months ago, she began to grow rapidly worse until the end came, March 4.

Surviving are her husband, Ed Long, three children, Austin, 6; Kenneth, 4 and Opal twenty-two months old, one sister Myrtle Gray and three brothers, Clifford, Francis and Harold.

Following the death of her mother, Mrs. Amy Gray several years ago, Mrs. Long and her husband took entire charge of the orphaned brothers and sisters and generously shared their home. Much credit was given for her young charges. The heartfelt sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved husband and children.

The Zimmerman Community Club meeting was held, March 4, at the schoolhouse. The President, Mrs. Oris Jones, presided. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Harry Haverstick, vice president, Mrs. Harry Stewart; secretary, Mrs. Frank Barron; treasurer, Miss Julia Lantz.

Refreshments of cocoa and cakes were served by Mrs. Charles Geisler and Mrs. Luther Snyder.

Mrs. Haverstick who served as president for four years, returned to the office after a year's absence from office, on account of ill-health. During which time, Mrs. Jones as president and Miss Gladys Greer as vice president, administered the duties of the office and kept the work of the club going, though neither is a resident of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Koozler called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Coy, at Belmont, Sunday evening.

Bernice Wright, of Dayton, was the guest of her cousin Mildred Stewart Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Smart is convalescing after an illness from pneumonia. Also Mrs. Myrtle Carpenter. The latter expects to move soon from Shoups' Station to her newly erected home east of Belmont.

HOME MISSION NEED EMPHASIZED IN TALK AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Emphasizing the importance of not confining Home Missionary organized work to the Indians of the West, the needy Negroes of the South and the Kentucky mountaineers, but rather to the immigrants that enter the shores of the United States and laxity in the home, school and church, Mrs. John Ferguson, New York City, national mission workers, gave an interesting address at the morning services of the First United Presbyterian Church, Sunday.

Mrs. Ferguson dwelt on the problems of home life and young people of the present, which declared to be serious and a problem for the church and school. She gave facts and figures to bear out her statements and urged the co-operation of the church missions bodies in overcoming wrong conditions.

Her address was heard by a large audience. Mrs. Ferguson is president of the National Council of Women for Home Missions and travels over the Country with other workers seeking a unity and relation in mission work of about twenty denominations.

For a number of years she was engaged in home mission work in the United Presbyterian Church. Together with other mission workers, she is in Dayton, this week, attending a mission conference.

EAST END NEWS

Thirty-two members and friends of the Community Bible School rendered a delightful program at the Church Sunday. Mrs. Mary Roman, 74, the "mother of the school" preached a powerful sermon to the congregation on "The Risen Lord," John 20. After the sermon the chorus joined in the song, "He Arose from the Dead," Supt. Hattie Spencer.

ANTIOCH STUDENTS WILL RATE FACULTY

Some of the Antioch students who will rate faculty.

By WILLIAM GOODALL YOUNG

Certainly strange things are happening in this old world of ours. In one direction we have a vice president telling Senators of the United States where to head in and get off at.

Then comes Antioch College, which is constantly springing surprises on the educational world, actually inviting students to rate the faculty. An unheard of proceeding. The rating will consist of the student's personal opinion of the members of the faculty in any one or more of the four following particulars:

Fairness in grading;
Ability to present a subject matter clearly;

Willingness to advise the student in personal, college and vocational matters;

MANY JUNIOR ORDER MEMBERS PRESENT AT MEETING HERE

Two hundred and fifty members of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics, from Greene and Montgomery Counties attended the initiation of candidates from the Thirtieth District, at the Xenia Lodge Hall, Saturday evening.

Lodge members from Greene County, Dayton, Miamisburg and Germantown, attended the ceremonies. Work in three degrees was in charge of visiting lodge degree teams, the first degree work being staged by the Aviation Council, Dayton; the second degree by the Miamisburg team and the third degree by the Germantown team.

After the degree work, music was furnished by the Miamisburg Lodge orchestra. Among the visitors was State District Deputy Ben Jennings, of Dayton, who gave a short talk. Other visitors and local lodge members gave short talks.

Luncheon was served before the initiatory work. About ten lodges of the two counties were represented at the meeting.

DRAWS JAIL TERM FOR MIXING BOOZE WITH GAS SUNDAY

Oliver Warwick, colored, East Church Street, received a fine of $100 and costs and a sentence of sixty days in the County Jail imposed by Judge E. D. Smith, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an auto while intoxicated Monday morning in Police Court. Harry Hirst, colored, of this city, was given a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of drunk to which he pleaded guilty.

The pair was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn and Patrolman Charles Thompson Sunday morning after Warwick had driven his automobile into a tree on East Church St., smashing the windshield, breaking a wheel and knocking Hirst, his companion unconscious. The car slid more than one hundred feet after hitting the tree.

Hirst received a deep cut above his right eye, and was in such an intoxicated condition that he could not be revived by police for nearly twelve hours. His condition is not serious.

KEPT BOOZE IN SAFE BUT LOCKSMITH AIDS POLICE RECOVER IT

It took police several hours to make a "case" against Harry Hudson, colored, East Church Street, Sunday morning, as a 2,000 pound safe owned by Hudson, which police suspected contained the much needed "evidence," defied all efforts to open it until a locksmith was summoned from Dayton.

Arraigned in Police Court on a charge of possessing liquor Monday morning, Hudson pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for Wednesday morning. He was released on $500 bond.

Deputy Sheriff John Baughn and Patrolman Charles Thompson conducted a raid on the Hudson home Sunday morning in search of liquor but after agreeably permitting the officers to search the house, Hudson refused to open the safe.

After several hours of useless tampering, a locksmith was called from Dayton who drilled the lock open, and enabled police to remove a quart and a half of liquor, and another half pint bottle.

Hudson claimed to have used the booze for medicinal purposes only.

The faculty member's value to Antioch.

The ratings are to be handed in on printed forms with a long line opposite each of the four sections. A check mark on one end of this line means that the faculty member stands very high, while at the other end it indicates that in the opinion of the student making the rating he stands very low. A check mark in between indicates the faculty members standing between the two extremes.

Each blank has a coupon attached numbered to correspond with the number on the blank faculty rating itself.

The coupon, which is detached and deposited in a locked box, to be opened only by President Morgan or Dean Nash, contains the name of the faculty member being rated, the basis upon which the rating is being made, and the student's name. The rating blank, containing the name of the member, the four grades of rating, checked as above indicated and any brief remarks the student cares to make, with the date but without the name of the student, is turned in to the President or the Dean for consideration, after which it is handed to the faculty member whose name it bears.

It is hoped this will be a way of handing out real encouragement where encouragement is needed and also of hitting weak spots accurately, thus pointing out to the faculty member where his strong and weak points are.

The rating will be conducted at the request of the faculty itself after vote on the matter. This not only shows confidence in the administration, but also in the seriousness of the students themselves. The general feeling among the students is one of responsibility and the faculty is assured of a fair and unprejudiced judgment.

The faculty realizes that there is no way of accurately determining how much its members are accomplishing in their work, and that even the subjects in which they feel themselves most competent are not necessarily going across to the students in the most helpful way. Therefore it welcomes this chance to find what its members are really accomplishing.

This rating will not be a one-sided affair. The faculty will rate the students in the same manner, and the students will later be asked to rate each other.

The entire rating idea is looked upon at Antioch as an unusual opportunity to discover, not critically, but constructively, just what defect of personality and character exists. The results of the ratings will furnish a basis, to faculty and students alike, for personal improvement and increased efficiency.

For Air Navy

Rear Admiral W. S. Sims, U.S.N. (retired), who commanded the American warships in European waters in the World War, told the House Committee on Aircraft, meeting in Washington, that America needed a great air fleet, rather than battleships, for her first line of defense.

PARK WORKERS WILL MEET MONDAY NIGHT TO PERFECT PLANS

Final reports will be made and plans completed at a meeting of the organization workers at the City Hall Monday evening for the drive for the $10,000 goal set by the Xenia Recreation Association for Thursday, to beautify and equip the proposed site for the new civic park in the DoDds Addition.

Immediately preceding the final meeting, the general finance committee will hold a supper-meeting at the Goody Shoppe at 6 o'clock to report on success in obtaining pledges.

Plans for the city-wide canvass Thursday have been completed and the association is marking time until drive day.

T. H. Zell, president of the association, announced Monday that instead of holding separate meetings on regular meeting nights this week, the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs will hold a joint meeting at the Goody Shoppe at 12 o'clock Thursday in the interest of the drive.

LUTHERAN CHURCH SERVICES ATTRACT BIG CROWDS SUNDAY

Congregations that filled the church auditorium at both services, attended the rededication services at the First Lutheran Church, West Main Street, Sunday morning and evening.

The services were in celebration of the completion of elaborate repairs and additions to the church and a general "home-coming" made the day an enjoyable one. A number of out-of-town visitors and former members of the church attended the services.

About 125 people attended each of the services. The morning service began at 10:30 o'clock, with the Rev. W. H. Naffziger, acting pastor, in charge of the program. The Rev. J. H. Koller, Springfield, and the Rev. M. L. Peters, Pennsylvania, addressed both audiences. The Rev. Mr. Peters gave a history of the formation of the Lutheran Church and the customs of the church. The Rev. Mr. Koller talked on general church work and both addresses were well received.

The Rev. Mr. Stacy, former pastor of the church, also gave a short talk at the evening service, telling of his connection with the church and the co-operation of the congregation. The Rev. Mr. Naffziger gave brief talks at both services.

Special musical programs were given by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Lewis Urschel and Raymond Consey. Mrs. Urschel, Carl Mellage, Mr. Consey and Miss Edna Mellage sang solos.

The church edifice was banked with palms and ferns and flowers and added to the beauty of the recent decorations of the auditorium.

TO SOLICIT FUNDS IN GREENE COUNTY

Xenia and Greene County alumni of Ohio Wesleyan University will be solicited in behalf of their university's development program, beginning Wednesday.

Four representatives of Ohio Wesleyan will make their headquarters in Xenia for the four days during which the solicitation is to be conducted and will make an effort to call on all the alumni.

The purpose of the development program is to provide for sixteen new buildings which will enable the university to accommodate many students who are turned away each year because of lack of equipment and to provide also for more than $5,000,000 additional general endowment. The first $1,000,000 of the $8,000,000 fund required for the program has just been pledged.

We make strenuous efforts to learn to read and write, but proper breathing, a thousand times more important, is not given much attention.

Air is food, it creates life. If not secured, disease and death soon intervene. If air is of such importance, if it is so necessary to life and health, is not the manner in which it is breathed also of very great importance? The answer to this question is plain, but nevertheless, the attention given to proper breathing, by the average individual, is practically nil.

Like everything else appertaining to the physical body, the average person seems to imagine that it "just grows" as it was made to grow and no influence of any kind can change it.

This statement may seem like an exaggeration, but I firmly believe that less than five per cent of the women breathe properly, and if one selects only the leisure classes, where a certain amount of muscular work is not compulsory, no doubt less than one out of a hundred would be found who makes free and proper use of the lungs. The terrible results of this evil have been commented upon before and it is unquestionably the cause thousands to fill premature graves annually, and results in physical and mental miseries for many millions more.

Study the breathing of a little child, lying or standing, not yet hampered and deformed by tight and restrictive bands, and with every breath inhaled, the abdomen at the waist line will go upward, and return as the breath is exhaled. Here will be found a practical exemplification of proper breathing from which every one can learn; where the child can teach the adult. And the value of this lesson, if it conveys the method and the vast importance of proper breathing, is beyond all financial consideration, for it means increased health, stronger and more symmetrical bodies, and all this cannot be bought.

All are familiar with the functions of the lungs, but few are aware of the necessity for their proper performance. If one is in the habit of breathing with the chest wall, inhaled continually in "short pants" as it were, if the habit of taking full, deep inspirations frequently while in the open air, is not cultivated only a small part of the lungs is used, and every part of the body suffers in consequence.

CONGRESS AND DIRTY MAGAZINES

WHEN the new Congress meets it could do a signal service to the cause of Americanism by appropriating a special and adequate sum of money for the prosecution of publishers who offend common decency by sending erotic or revolting literature through the mails. The number of magazines which so offend is constantly increasing and the circulation of these magazines has become enormous.

On the other hand, public sentiment is almost unanimous in condemnation of it. Not only the members of the Christian churches have been grossly offended by the growth of this traffic but public-spirited men of no church have spoken indignantly of this assault upon the fundamentals of Americanism. In the words of Hamlin Garland, this literature "is not only un-American in tone and method but equally cynical and subversive. It is born of lugubrious Russian philosophy and certain decadent French masters of hopeless and debasing fiction. England, France and America are in the process of exchanging obscenity, rather than the vital, characteristic and helpful literature which represents busy people everywhere."

THE NEW SOUTH

ABOUT six years ago the Commission on Inter-Racial Cooperation was formed in the South, its logical starting point. It consisted of an equal number of leaders from the white race and the negroes. It has given consideration to grievances or injustices springing out of inter-racial relations.

Recent reports indicate that this form of co-operation is spreading in the South. Joint committees of the two races have been set up in some 800 Southern counties, covering several states. It is believed that they had an important influence in bringing about a notable reduction in lynchings the past year.

This is but one of several indications that a new South is developing. When the citizens of Enterprise, Ala., not long ago erected a monument to the boll weevil because it had forced diversified agriculture upon them, they gave token of the same fact.

For many years after the civil war the South made such slow progress that it seemed to be standing still. Of late, at any rate, it has not stood still, but has made steady gain in economic stability, in civic spirit and in education.

In 1923, for example, the value of its farm products reached the impressive total of six and a quarter billion dollars. Its tobacco crop in 1910 was worth eighty millions, but by 1923 it had risen to two hundred and forty-one millions.

There are fifteen agricultural colleges in the South and her universities are prospering and are being liberally endowed. Observers claim that no section of the country has developed so rapidly the last twenty years as the South. In economic resources it is astoundingly rich, while industrially and educationally it is being reborn.

One of the best features of this movement is the manifestation of a new spirit growing up between the races there.

THE FAIR DAY

It's through the day and all that it shall bring
I shall have come without one sharp regret;
If in the breast of none whom I have met
No word of mine has left a bitter sting
And none, because I passed stays sorrowing
Though little to my profit shall I get,
I shall not mind my weight of honest debt
Nor dread the morning as a fearful thing.

I can look forward to another day
With heart untroubled, eager, unafraid,
Knowing there waits for me along the way
No shame to shrink from and no pitfalls made;
I can return tomorrow to my place
Head high to meet my fellows, face to face!

TO DELAY IS DANGEROUS

SERIOUSLY BURNED AS STOVE EXPLODES

Ralph Quinn, blacksmith of the Pennsylvania Railroad, had his right arm seriously burned when a cannon stove in his shop, near the depot, exploded Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Quinn had filled the stove with "green coal" and was closing the stove door when the gases in the coal caused the stove to explode. The flames shot through the door and caught Mr. Quinn's clothing. He was saved from more serious burns by his son, George Quinn, who also works in the shop.

Dr. W. A. Galloway, Pennsylvania Railroad surgeon, dressed the burns, which are not thought serious if infection does not set in.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.

1905-Twenty Years Ago-1925

The matter of paving streets in Xenia appears to be contagious and another street, West Second, will in all probability be added to the list in a short time. A party of Xenians consisting of Police Chief Smith, Officer William McCallister, and Mr. W. E. Kiser, were entertained at a supper by Mr. and Mrs. Ed

Stahl who are conducting the Osborn Hotel in Osborn. In an exciting game last night the National bowling team defeated the All Stars, McFarland, of the Nationals rolling high score and average. The Y. M. C. A. star course closed last evening with a splendid concert by the Dunbar Company.

Cranberry-Raisin Pie: Into a saucepan put two cups of washed cranberries, one-half cup of large seeded raisins and one-half cup of cold water; bring to a boil and let simmer till the cranberries break open. Then add one cup of granulated sugar, and cool. When cold add one and one-half tablespoons of orange juice, one-half cup of cracked crumbs and one beaten egg. Turn this filling into a pan lined with uncooked pastry. Cover the top with pastry strips laid on "lattice fashion". Bake in a hot oven for about 35 minutes.

Breaded Sweetbreads: No matter how you cook sweetbreads, always soak them for an hour in cold water after getting them from the butcher then drain and simmer in hot water containing a few drops of vinegar and a pinch of salt, for 20 minutes; this parboils them. Plunge them into boiling water to harden, then remove the tubes, skin and bits of fibre without breaking the sweetbreads. This preliminary preparation is always necessary. To make the Breaded Sweetbreads, split the parboiled sweetbreads in halves, lengthwise, and sprinkle with salt, pepper and lemon juice; dip them in fine, dry bread crumbs, then in egg, and once more in the crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat (that is, in fat which is hot enough to brown a cube of white bread in 40 seconds), till golden brown, then drain and serve.

Boils!

Ouch!

S.S.S. will rid you of boils, pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorder. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood-power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils! It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1925 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!

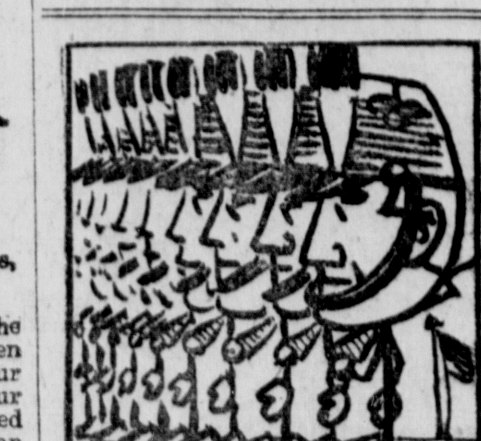

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

ON EARNING

The only things we own are the things we earn. The gambler owns nothing.

If the gambler wins big he loses it that he has acquired great wealth. As a matter of fact he has only shifted position with some one else—he is a man of borrowed wealth.

But the man who earns owns outright. He has respect for himself and for the world. He is not distrustful. Illusions pass before his mind, but the things of facts make an impression and his intelligence absorbs. He grows. He is a useful citizen. He has rare understanding.

The man who earns is also a philosopher. The philosopher is the man who stirs the kettle of ideas and plants his feet upon the ground. He discerns. He often does foolish things in order that he may get the reaction to valuable truths. But he always pays the price. In the end, he is a true earner.

No one ever gets anything for nothing. Everything has to be paid for if it is kept.

Success is a process full of pitfalls, full of tears, full of hardships. Many ride upon the earned success of others, but they only know the crest of the waves for a little while. They live to learn the futility of that which they falsely think, belongs to them.

The world is made up of lifters and leaneers. The lifters are the earners. They are the salt of the earth.

Earners think in straight lines. They cut no short corners. They make up the choice and rare Society of Strong Men. They are the ultra genuine.

A man takes great pride in the thing which he knows represents the sweat of his brow and the long days and nights of labor sincerely given over to improvement and useful profit. He knows that here it where no thief—no matter how clever—will ever find opportunity to break in or steal.

No one will ever approach perfect contentment in this world but he who honestly earns will enjoy many a shadow of its genuine self.

ALPHA CONCERN SUES POWER COMPANY FOR DAMAGES FROM FIRE

Alleging that a fire June 6, 1924, which entirely destroyed its elevator and warehouse, with its contents, was caused by excessive voltage of about 33,000 volts transmitted over wires into the elevator, The Alpha Seed and Grain Company has filed suit in Common Pleas Court through its attorney Charles L. Darlington, for $32,100.00 damages against The Dayton Power and Light Company.

Seven intervening petitions have also been filed by insurance companies with which the grain company carried insurance amounting to $9,000. The petition to collect the insurance, which had been paid.

The plaintiff claims the elevator, feed mill and poultry feed plant, were entirely consumed by the blaze with machinery, equipment, and a stock of grain, seeds, flour, feed and other merchandise. A value of $10,350 is placed on the elevator, $13,500 on machinery and equipment, and $8,250 on the stock.

The Dayton Power and Light Company supplied the elevator with electric power and light, and whereas 220 volts was the proper voltage, nearly 33,000 volts were transmitted over the wires resulting in the blaze, according to the petition. The light company was notified of the excess voltage but delayed an unreasonable length of time before amending existing conditions, the feed concern contends.

Among acts of negligence, claimed by the feed company, is that there was no disconnecting switch in the 33,000 volt branch line between the main transmission line of the defendant and the transformer by means of which the high voltage current could have been prevented from passing into the building.

It is claimed high voltage fuses were not provided in the 33,000 volt line to protect the transformer and various other installations in connection, by means of which the current would have been automatically opened when the lightning arresters failed to function properly.

The plaintiff also alleges the ground connection between the lightning arresters and the ground was defective as was known or should have been known by the defendant, and that the connection burned off at the base of the pole upon which it was installed. Instead of which the transformer was connected to the lightning arresters contrary to standard practice, it is set forth. There was no device with the elevator in a distance of seven miles from the elevator to turn the power off, according to the petition.

Insurance totaling $9,000 was carried on the building and contents with the following companies, with the Central Manufacturers Mutual Insurance Company of an Wert, O., $1,000 on the stock; with the Fire Insurance Underwriters of Pennsylvania, $2,000 on the stock; with the National Mutual Insurance Company, $1,000 on the stock and feed; with the Ohio Mutual Insurance Company, $1,000 on building and equipment; with the Columbus County Mutual Insurance Company, $500 on grain, seeds and merchandise, and $500 on machinery; $1,000 on stock, grain and machinery with The American Mutual Insurance Company and $1,000 with the Western Mutual Fire Insurance Company on the stock.

These seven companies have filed intervening petitions to collect the insurance which had been paid the plaintiff with the agreement that if a third party should be made liable for the fire, the insurance money should be refunded.

The fire occurred during an electrical storm and officials then attributed it to lightning running in on power lines connected with the building. An appeal made to the Dayton Power and Light Company to cut off the transformer resulted in the information that it would have to be cut off at Belmont, and that the company was unable to comply with the request, the plaintiff claims.

CO-OPERATIVE MILK MARKETING EARNED MEMBERS DIVIDEND

The first co-operative cream station was started in Greene County in April, 1922. Since that time 300,000 pounds of butterfat has been marketed through Greene County's co-operative cream stations.

The price paid by old-line companies buying cream outside of the state of Ohio show that on account of the co-operatives here, these companies are paying an average of 4.7 cents more per pound for butterfat here in Ohio than they are paying in territory outside of Ohio where there are no co-operative cream stations.

This means that the members of the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association have marketed 600,000 pounds of butterfat for which they have received $28,200 more on account of co-operation. There has been marketed about 400,000 pounds of butterfat by non-members who have not supported the co-operative movement but who have received almost the same benefits, making a total of approximately 1,000,000 pounds of butterfat marketed bringing a net gain to farmers of $47,000 due entirely to the existence of co-operative marketing cream stations in that territory.

Before the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association started, $2 per hundred pounds was the price paid for milk in the summer and $2.50 for winter production in the Dayton market, the surplus price being much below these prices.

Last year surplus production was greater than any period in recent years, and during this year the As. Dayton sold co-operatively in the Dayton market 48,008.125 pounds of milk and received for producers an average price of $2.497 throughout the year for surplus and all other milk—almost $2.50. It is safe to say that the co-operative marketing of milk in one year's time brought producers between 25c to 35c per hundred more than they would have received had they not been members of the Association, or an approximate total gain of $120,000. This amount will be greatly increased by more continued co-operation.

On December 1, 1923, the producers—members of The Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association—will have their Dayton plant and equipment valued at approximately $47,887 paid for, provided payments can be met as they have been up to the present date.

A statement of the amount of each member's equity or ownership in the plant and equipment will be given to members in the very near future. President Coolidge is for co-operative marketing organizations and says, "They must begin with small things, and must have the sincere, courageous, determined support of their members."

We hope that each member of The Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association is President Coolidge's kind of a member.

Very sincerely yours,
C. W. LAWRENCE, Gen. Manager,
The Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Association.

EAGLES WILL STAGE WRESTLING SHOW

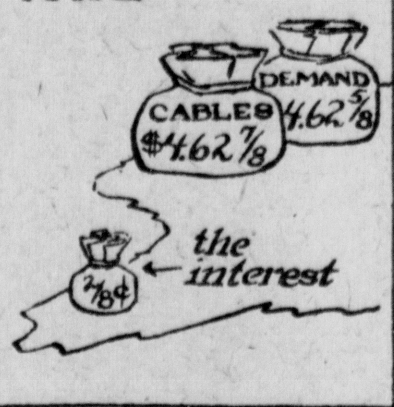

The Eagles Athletic Club will sponsor another wrestling show Wednesday night. Pete Montana, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., will meet George Gatsoff, Massillon wrestler in the main event.

The semi-windup will bring together Gene Wead of this city, and Speedy Crawford, colored wrestler. They met before and the bout was called a draw. This time there is much at stake because the winner of the match will get to grapple regularly on the cards. Wead has been training faithfully for the encounter and is confident he can down the dark skinned grappler. This is bound to be a good match as the boys seem to be about evenly matched. There will be a prelin between two local boys which will start at 8:30 o'clock. Popular prices will prevail.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but important lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

THE CABLE RATE IS THE BASIC RATE —

In the listings of foreign exchange you will often see quoted, "Pounds Sterling—cables, 462 7/8 Demand 462 5/8. 60 day bills 459 7/8." What does this mean?

In foreign exchange, the basic rate is the cable rate. That is, the rate of exchange on money transferred by cable. Slightly behind the cable rate lags the demand rate and then the rate for 60 day bills.

The reason for this is simple. On a cable exchange, the money is transferred the same day (within a few minutes sometimes) between New York and London and the banker completing the transaction loses the benefit of the interest on his money immediately. On the demand bill, however, the banker draws interest on his balance for at least 10 days, as that is the average time it takes to draw, ship, and present a demand bill from New York on London.

With the 60 day bill, the banker has the use of the balance which the bill is drawing on for 60 days before he must pay. The difference between the cable, the demand, and the 60 day rate or exchange is practically always just a difference of interest money. When the difference is more or less than merely interest, speculators jump in and quickly bring the three rates back into their proper interest ratio.

DEATH CLAIMS MAN WELL KNOWN HERE

Xenia relatives have received word of the death of O. P. Shaffer, 81, who was well known in this city, which occurred in Washington, D. C., Saturday, from heart trouble.

Funeral services will be held at Mr. Shaffer's former home in Youngstown, O., Tuesday and W. O. Logan, of this city, will attend the services. Mr. Shaffer resided in this city at the Logan home on East Second Street, for two summers and had a large acquaintance here. His wife preceded him in death last July. One son, Paul Shaffer, of New York City, survives.

MODISH MITZI—The Goofer Does a Bit Of Figuring

The Goofer is looking disturbed. Its the eleventh hour. And his income tax must be turned in. He's wondering if there ever will be a clothes exemption—how in the world did his income become so much outgo? His blue business suit, he hopes will make him feel more business like.

It's done. Even the check on the first quarter is made out. The Goofer looks a bit thinner but far more cheerful. Well he should. This diamond plaid pullover ought to cheer anybody's life especially its wearer.

With the whole darn business tucked in the inside coat pocket of his ulster the Goofer feels he can meet any man. It's his favorite coat, narrow shoulders, you notice, and large sleeve heads. There is no use worrying, what is spent, even if it is a year's income.

He is so glad he wore his favorite coat. Just after he has had the last rites of the legal proceeding administered, the Goofer finds himself face to face with Polly and Mitzi. He is going to ask them to accompany him to the nearest haberdashery to bolster up flagging spirits with the loudest necktie on sale.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate; then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities, which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will help prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually helps make pimples disappear.

In Memoriam. 3
ANDERSON-Amos Edgar Anderson, son of Thomas and Mary Jane Anderson was born June 13th 1860 and died March 12th, 1925. He was united in marriage to Clara F. Peterson. To them one daughter and one son were born. The daughter, Zana, and the wife preceded him in death. The son James T. remains with two grandsons Homer and Elmer Delaven. The following brothers and sisters also survive Horace Anderson and Harvey Anderson of Xenia, O., Mrs. Kate Stafford and Mrs. Florence Childers of Albany, Ind., and Mrs. Ida Adams of Spring Valley, O.
Mr. Anderson was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church holding his connection at White Chapel.
He will be sorely missed in the home and in the community.
We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and floral offerings, also Rev. Walley, James T. Anderson.

"CAP" STUBBS-A Fine Way To Treat A Dog

APPLE SAUCE!

The farmer stops planting his clover to pour out his grief on my neck; for he thinks when the harvest is over he'll lose twenty cents on each pack. The teacher is talking of taxes which rob him of all that he gains; and bitter and weary he waxes and loudly he yells and complains.

I stop at the street intersection and list to the voice of the jay, who thinks the whole world needs correction because it's not going his way. He tells of the dangers before us, and bitter and loud is his squeal; there's hate and there's wrath in his chorus and trash in his silly appeal.

So I turn on my heel from his chatter and flee from his yell and his yell; away from his jabber I patter and leave him rave on in his spell. And so I am weary and cheerless and tired of the tales that I hear; I look for a friend who is fearless to fill me with gospel of cheer. I long for a face that is beaming and patted all over with grins; the smile of a friend who's not dreaming and pointing about all of our sins.

To the splendid old church on the corner I take this old carcass of mine; the preacher is never a scorner, but always a kindly divine. And how sweet is the voice of the preacher with righteousness filled to the brim; who follows in steps of his Teacher, whose sunlight does never grow dim.

And when I am weary and friendless and bored by the grumble I hear; when jabber and gossip is endless and grief is poured into my ear, I long for a kindly good sermon from one filled with faith to the eyes, who thinks not his brothers are vermin, who tells me no cattering lies.

Lou Hopkins was telling us the other day of a poor fellow who walked away from church one day with an umbrella that didn't belong to him. Hopkins says the minister urged each one present to take away something valuable with him and maybe this is all the fellow could find.

YES, THEY HAVE SOME
They have no bananas today.
But they have banana peelings.
I slipped on one, by the way.
And hurt a lot more than my feelings.

FIREMAN INJURED FIGHTING FLAMES AT JAMESTOWN HOME

Fire from unknown origin, destroyed the second story of the residence of William Bradds, on Clemans Avenue, Jamestown, early Monday morning.

The blaze was discovered on the roof of the house and made rapid progress, despite the efforts of fire fighters to check it. Furniture in the house was saved. Most of the damage was caused on the second floor by water and smoke.

Hamma Bland, one of the fire fighters, received a painful injury during the fire. He was attempting to remove a hanging lamp in the Bradds home and the rod of the lamp fell and struck him on the head, causing a deep gash. Dr. R. L. Haines dressed the injury.

BUREAU FAVORS SANE BUILDING OF ROADS

"Every unit of the Farm Bureau is working on a sensible road building program," according to Representative R. D. Williamson of the Greene County Farm Bureau.

"Both at Washington and in Columbus, Farm Bureau representatives are striving for road legislation that will consider the needs of farmers along with other classes of citizens."

The Farm Bureau has vigorously fought for legislation aimed to make the man who uses the roads pay for them.

At the preceding General Assembly the Farm Bureau favored the law passed reducing assessment on property along the line of improved highways to 15 per cent.

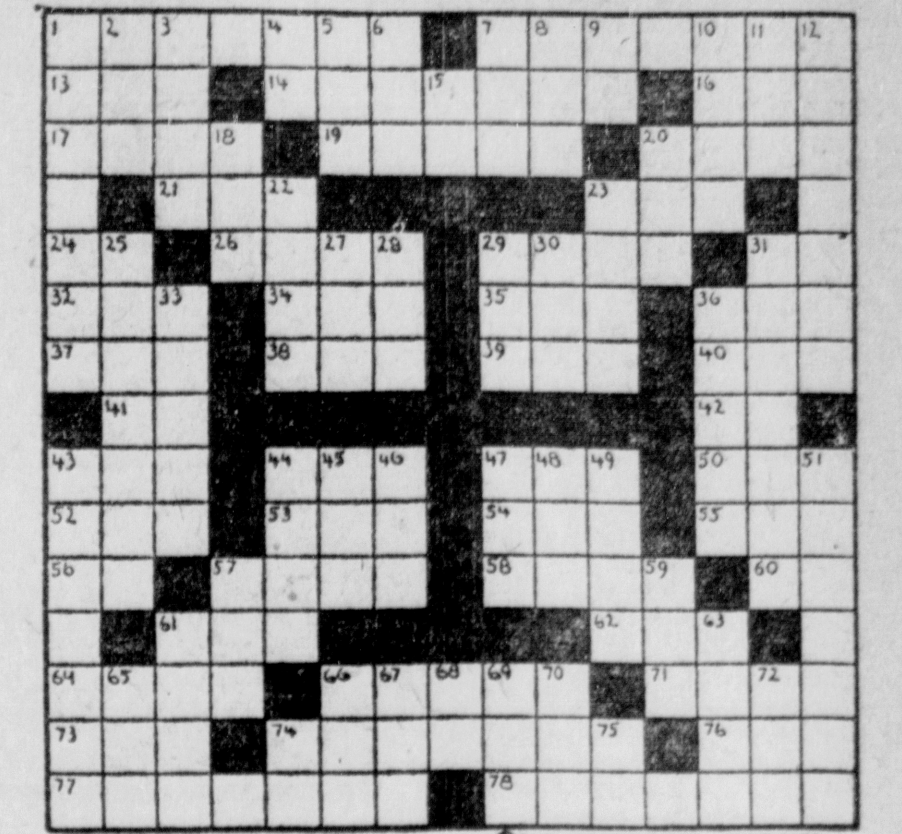

It is now seeking to have the assessment reduced to a maximum of 10 per cent.

In a number of instances over Ohio, the Farm Bureau has been the unit which has sponsored the building of much needed strips by popular subscription or volunteer labor and donated material.

LOOT STORE

Barton, March 16-Joseph Ayers and Mack Reed were arrested here on a charge of looting a store at Bradley, Jefferson County. The arrested followed discovery in a mine, at which Reed is watchman, of a quantity of goods identified as having been stolen from the store. Reed, it was alleged, wore a pair of stolen shoes at the time of his arrest.

CLAIM FORFEIT

The Junior High School hockey team claims a win from the Winged Horsemen five by the forfeit route, 1 to 0. The high school bunch contended that a game was scheduled for Saturday but the Horsemen failed to put in their appearance thereby forfeiting the contest.

Robert Adair, of the Junior team, met with the first casualty of the hockey season. Adair received an injury to his left eye in a recent match with the Horsemen.

ORGANIZATION MAN ADDRESSES XENIA TOWNSHIP MEETING

A successful community supper was held by the Xenia Township Farm Bureau at the Second U. P. Church, this city, Friday evening, and 167 residents from every neighborhood in the township were present.

The community supper was the first attempt on the part of Xenia Township to get together and the committees in charge were well pleased and are trusting the interest shown in the meetings will be given to the membership drive of the Farm Bureau.

Following the bountiful covered dish supper arranged by Mrs. J. I. Patterson and her committee, Fred Flynn, Xenia Township chairman, introduced C. S. Hamby of the General Organization Company of Chicago. Through his wide acquaintance with organization work all over the United States, Mr. Hamby felt that three of the major requirements in any sort of organization work had a most practical application to farm organization work. These three requirements he insisted must be: faith in the organization, a desire to pull together and nerve to look into the future.

Five-minute talks given by the Rev. C. P. Proudfoot, Mrs. D. B. Page, F. P. Hastings and Herman Eavey, further emphasized the key points that Mr. Hamby had brought out. W. B. Bryson, president of the County Farm Bureau, outlined the plan that the association has undertaken to stimulate interest in Farm Bureau activities and swell the membership.

The meeting was only one of hundreds held this week over the state.

STAFFORD GIVEN SUSPENDED TERM

Harold Stafford, Xenia, was given a suspended sentence of one year in the reformatory at Mansfield, by Judge R. L. Gowdy, in Common Pleas Court Saturday morning on an indictment charging the theft of an automobile.

The sentence was suspended on condition that Stafford's future behavior continued good, and that he reimburse the man from whom he stole the machine for damages.

Stafford was indicted by the grand jury, on a joint charge of auto stealing with his companion Elmer Bowman and pleaded not guilty when arraigned, later changing his plea to one of guilty.

XENIA POOL STARS BEAT JAMESTOWN

A Xenia match pool team defeated the Jamestown table artists by twenty-seven points in a return game at the Hustmyer Billiard Parlors Friday night. Jamestown had beaten Xenia earlier in the season. The score was 373 to 346.

Glass made the high run of the evening when he shot forty while Painter was best for Xenia and high scorer of the match.

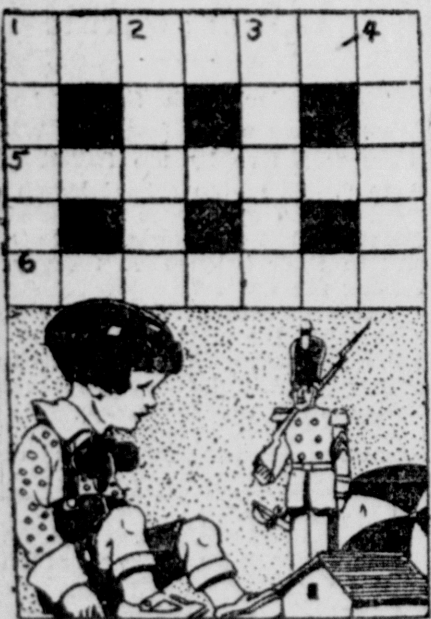

The local team included Robinette, Ledbetter, Painter and Fox. Miller, Hopkins, Glass and Lane played for Jamestown.

Xenia will play the rub game with Jamestown Tuesday night at Jamestown.

Word 5. A southern state.
Word 6. A gift.
Running Down
Word 1. Opposite of dull.
Word 2. To go away from.
Word 3. Angry; full of ire.
Word 4. One way of cooking meat.

YESTERDAY'S JUNIOR PUZZLE ANSWER

BRINGING UP FATHER

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA LELAND's husband, Jim, has gone to Honolulu shortly after their marriage, following a misunderstanding with his wife, and has taken his mother with him, leaving Cynthia to face the disapproval of her sister-in-law.

LOUELLA, and all her world. Cynthia turns to

CECILE MAJCOLM, leader of the town's gayest set, and accepts the friendship of

NOEL GARDNER, the town's black sheep, going with them to a mid-winter house party at Cecile's mountain cabin.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XXXVIII—CONFIDENCES

WHAT would Jim Leland do when he got home? What would he say when he heard that his wife had been snowbound in a deserted summer cottage for three days with Noel Gardner?

Cynthia had no more idea what the answers to those questions would be than had the women who gossiped about her. She talked them over with Noel the next day.

"Jim will believe me when I tell him the truth about our being lost in the woods, I'm sure of that," Cynthia said. "He's sure to I can't always count on him, but I'm positive that I can in this case."

"Well, yes, I agree with you that far," answered Noel. "But I can't tell how he'll take things. He may be darned disagreeable, you know. I knew Jim as a kid, and he's no broader-minded than his mother. He's likely to feel that he has to forgive you, as if you'd done something wrong, and make it rather uncomfortable for you forever after. Tell me, Cynthia—how did you happen to marry him, anyway? He doesn't seem to me to be at all the kind of chap you'd pick for a husband."

"Oh, I was so lonely, and he was so good to me. You see, I'd just come from one set of aunts and uncles and cousins to another all my life after my parents died. I'd never had a home of my own. I was always visiting in somebody else's, except when I was away at school. And then Jim came along, and he seemed so kind and steady and dependable, and I did care a lot for him—I'm not the first woman who's mistaken that feeling for love, you know!"

"So we were married and came here, and I found his whole family running me, and even though Jim was kind, he sided with them against me. I do think that a young married couple should have the first two years alone, so that they can really get to know each other! Jim and I seemed to be always misunderstanding each other. I was always doing something I thought was all right, that he thought was simply dreadful! And his mother was always stepping in between us. Now—"

"Now you're going to get a divorce from Jim and marry me," Noel cut in, quickly. "And I'm going to take care of you for the rest of your life. I'm going to make you happy."

"But what if Jim doesn't want a divorce? We can't do anything then."

"Then I'm going to kidnap you," he answered, quietly. "I know that you'd never run away from him, but I'm not going to let you ruin your life by sticking with him, and having him and his family look down on you forever. You'd stick it out, I know. But I won't have that."

He was quite capable of carrying out his threat, she knew. The opinion of other people meant nothing to him. They could live abroad, of course, till Jim divorced her, and then they could be married. It was not a picture she liked—and yet how could she remain with Jim, under the constant disapproval of his family? That would be even worse. Oh, how had she contrived to make such a mess of her life!

She thought of the various women of her acquaintance; any one of them would have handled the situation so easily. Louella would never have got into it in the first place; she would always have been happy in the life that Jim and his mother decreed.

And Cecile would never have hesitated for an instant if she knew that Noel loved her. She would gaily have thrown her bonnet over the windmill and followed him to the ends of the earth.

But then, Noel wouldn't have fallen in love with a woman who was capable of taking things that way!

"Have you any idea of when Jim will be here?" Noel went on, after a few moments' silence.

"He ought to be home within two weeks," Cynthia answered slowly. "I haven't heard exactly." Even to Noel she hated to admit that Jim's letters were rare, and that they said very little.

"Then we can settle this thing soon; I'm glad of that," Noel replied. "I'd suggest that you make arrangements to bring suit at once, as soon as you've reached an agreement with Jim, and then you might go away for a while, and I could join you later, and we'd be married."

Cynthia said nothing. It seemed such a hard-hearted way of going about things. And she was to be dumped back and forth like a bag of meal, with all this divorcing and remarrying going on over her head, so to speak!

Perhaps if she and Jim had known each other better before they were married—perhaps if she'd met Noel before she married Jim—her mind whirled between the two possibilities. She began to feel that anything would be preferable to the state of affairs that now prevailed.

ED COBB in

"MIDNIGHT SHADOWS"

Written and Directed by FRANCIS FORD

Ed puts this role over in his usual dare-devil style and stops at nothing to give his fans a thrill. He crosses a rocky gorge by rope and while in mid-air the rope is cut by the chief villain and Ed drops many feet below into a gorge. He also does a lot of hard riding and surpasses his previous work to make this picture first-class.

A Gift of Strength for Pale, Weak Folk

Do you envy the plump, rosy, healthy-looking people around you? Can you imagine yourself with clear skin, flashing eyes, well-rounded figure? You can be that way—and soon—through Coco Cod, a new, easy-to-take form of cod liver oil with the taste of rich cocoa.

Yes, and you can have wondrous strength, too, for Coco Cod builds up within you an energy that makes you feel alive in every fibre. Doctors are prescribing it for children and adults who need more strength, but who cannot take the ordinary, nasty-tasting cod liver oil.

Caution: Coco Cod is sold only in liquid form, in 12-ounce bottle, never in tablets. Best results are obtained with pure Norwegian cod liver oil in original liquid state. In Coco Cod you have the benefit of the finest, purest oil with the taste of rich chocolate.

Try this: Weigh yourself; then take Coco Cod before meals for a few weeks; then weigh yourself again. You'll be amazed at the difference. But be sure you get the genuine
